

Complaints

On Keggars

The management of student sponsored keggars this year has created an untenable situation. Complaints have been filed with the Student Activities Office concerning keggars sponsored in the Student Center and extensive damages have been done to the center during the keggars. We also have recieved a number of reports of large numbers of under-age and non-university individuals being allowed entrance to the keggars. Entrance to a keggar requires Capitol Campus ID and proof of age. University students and their guests who have LCB cards are to be stamped, which identifies as eligible to be served alcoholic beverages. Students invited to the keggar from other universities must be a guest of a Penn State University student. That means one guest per Penn State University student who must show proper ID to gain entrance to the keggar. At no time should high school aged individuals be found in the keggar or unescorted students from the surrounding universities. No off-campus advertisement for keggars is allowed. This includes posters, flyers, newspaper ads and office service radio and television announcements.

The President of the Student Government Association in conjunction with the Coordinator of Student Activities has reviewed the problems associated with keggars. This effort to improve the management of keggars is a joint one, hopefully it will be successful.

The following are specific matters which organizations should be aware of:

Any damages caused during a keggar will be charged to the organization sponsoring the event, and that organization will not be allowed to sponsor future events until the club can demonstrate an ability to manage these events successfully.

Any under-age(18 years or younger) individual found at a keggar will cause the organization to lose its privilege of sponsoring future events.

Each keggar is subject to inspection by University officials. Upon inspection by these individuals if any underage individual is found with alcoholic beverages or if other rules are not being followed, the organization will forfeit their privilege of reserving the Student Center for future events using alcoholic beverages and these under-age individuals will be ejected and the event may be terminated.

TV Auction

Hershey, Pa.-The biggest and most unusual auction in central Pa. is underway with the 10th annual "Great TV Auction" which went on the air Sunday, May 7, at 5 p.m., and will continue nightly through Saturday, May 13, on WITF-TV/33.

Humping Iron II rolled across the finish line amid cheers from a crowd of around 300 spectators in the 10th annual P.S.P.E. Bathtub Race held on campus yesterday. The winning team which consisted of members of Joint Effort won the 5 foot trophy and a keg of beer. The second place tub was entered by second year MET students from Berks Campus. Third place was taken by the Central Painting Contractors' Special, which was also from Berks County Campus. In fourth place was P.S.P.E. '78 and in

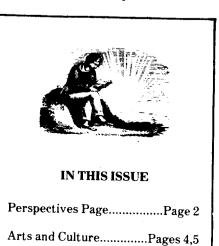

During the week-long extravaganza, which originates live from the Hershey Community Theatre, some 2,000 items worth nearly $200,000--all contributed by area businesses and individuals--are presented on the air and sold to viewers who bid from home by dialing a toll-free telephone number. The proceeds help support the operation of this area's non-commercial, community-supported public broadcasting stations, WITF-TV/33 and WITF-FM/89.5.

Last year's gross receipts of $160,000 accounted for ten percent of the stations' budget, and the goal for this year is $175,000.

The hours of the Auction are 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. Sunday through Friday, and on Saturday from 1 p.m. until the last item is sold. Since the first Auction in 1969, sign-off has never come before 4 a.m., and it has usually been later. (continued p.7)

The race began in the Student Center parking lot and ran past the power plant and then around the main building. It then continued around the Multi-purpose Building to the finish line, which was in the parking lot behind the Main Building. The winning tub caught the lead in the opening moments and held it throughout the race but the other teams put up a good fight for the remaining places.

fifth were the XGI's.
