Budget Approved

The 1978-79 Budget was finally passed by a 13-0-1 vote at the SGA meeting held on Tuesday night, thus ending the freeze on club funds.

The Budget Recommendation presented by the Finance Committee was changed very little from the recommendation which was turned down by the SGA at the previous session by a 4-5-4 vote.

With this new budget, clubs will not be able to spend their allocated money for any fund raising activities. If a club wants to sponsor a fund raiser, it must go to the Finance Committee to borrow the amount of money needed. The amount which was borrowed must then be returned to the Committee and the club will keep the profits, if any. In case of failure, the Committee will absorb the loss.

Following is the Budget now in affect: BSU, $200; BCAF, $202; Beta Chi, $155; Chess Club, $20; Cheerleaders, $89; XGI's, $223; IEEE, $50; ITE, $50; PSEA, $60; Photo Club, $50; PSGSA, $58; Outdoor Club, $55; Social Committee, $790; WNDR, $55; Aviation Club, $55; NOW, $73; Tarnhelm, $229; IAA, $360; Accounting Club, $146; ASME, $55; Phi Beta Lambda, $88; SPS, $50; College Republicans, $57; SAE, $50; Young Democrats, $50; SGA, $1100; SGO, $2400; C.C. Reader, $933; MHBOG, $207; Reserve Fund, $3000; Travel Fund, $1500; Equipment Fund, $1500; Reallocation Fund, $8823.

These figures are subject to change after the fall term. Budget meetings will be held at the end of the term to reallocate the money. The amount of additional funds will depend mostly upon the quality of the programs or services of the organization. The additional funds will come out of the Reallocation Fund.

Jacob Retires

By Joan H. Klein

Dr. Emerson Jacob who, until recently, was Head Librarian at Capitol Campus, will be retiring on June 30, 1979 after 37 years in library work. He will be 65-years-old in March and will be subject to mandatory retirement.

There have been significant changes and growth in professional personnel and in the library's facilities since Jacob's arrival. Not the least of these is the new annex. The date for opening the annex is tentatively set for the beginning of the Winter Term.

It is hoped the annex will do much to alleviate severe space congestion. It will add approximately 5,000 square feet to the existing 17,000 square feet presently in use.

"We will still be markedly below the American Library Association's recommended space allowance for schools of this type. It will, however, relieve pressure on the library as far as book storage is concerned and will make possible various options in offering services," he said.

In the past seven years, the number of volumes has grown from 40,000 volumes, partly uncatalogued, to 134,000 catalogued volumes.

The library also contains a fairly strong periodical collection and it has strengthened back runs of titles. "In addition," said Jacob, "we have an outstanding collection of microform material-534,000 microform units, that is microfilm reels, microfiche frames, etc."

The library is now a member of Associated College Libraries of Central Pennsylvania, a consortium for cooperative purposes. During Jacob's tenure, a computer terminal was installed linking the library to a central computerized data bank in Columbus, Ohio, making it part of a network of nearly 1,000 college and university libraries. As a result, new books are catalogued within a few weeks rather than many months.

It is with discernible pride that Jacob notes the progress which has been made. "The ideal would be an entirely separate facility, but, because of financial considerations, that has not been possible to date.

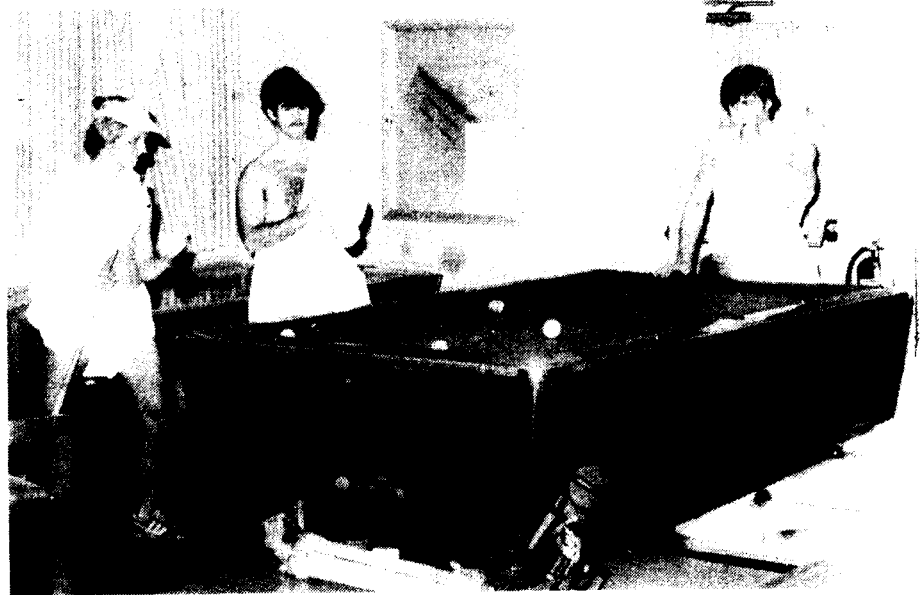

Candidates To Appear

Legislative candidates from the area will hold a question and answer session in Vendorville at 1:30 P.M. on Tuesday, October 17. This session will be sponsored by the Young Democrats.

Ed Beck and Jon Frew are professional counselors at the Counseling Center on campus. The center offers assistance to students in all areas, including personal problems and vocational or educational decisions.

Ed is back from a one year leave of absence and is acting coordinator of the center. He has been at Capitol Campus for six years. He received his bachelors and masters degrees from NYU and is currently doing doctoral studies in counseling psychology at Penn Ed's professional interests include humanistic education, sensitivity training, drug and alcohol education/prevention, and human relations.

Jon Frew is new to the counseling staff. He has had previous experience as a counselor at Miami University in Oxford Ohio, as well as a part-time instructor and as a therapist for County Mental Health Services. He is currently training in Gestalt therapy at the Gestalt Institute in Cleveland.

His interests include group work and the nature of relationships and dealing with them. He has worked with men and women in different treatment centers with the group as a model.

The aim of the center is to help students with any problem they may have. A complete library of educational and career-planning resources is available. Information on 2500 different grad schools is available. There are complete files on new careers education and vocational and career planning. Interest testing is done to determine and understand an individual's interests, aptitudes and characteristics.

If the staff cannot deal directly with a problem, or a particular service or needed information is not available on campus, they will arrange a referral to resources in the community (including private and public mental health and human services agencies).

The direction series is a series of mini-courses offered by the center aimed at helping a person understand himself and others better and to develop interpersonal and communication skills. These courses include assertion training, human growth and personal development.

The staff meets with student groups to determine the particular needs of the students. Particular interest is given to groups with special needs, such as the handicapped, blacks and women.

The counselors stress the fact that there is no need to make an appointment since the center operates on a walk-in basis. A 24-hour answering service is available for recording a message for a particular counselor. Students should feel free to call the counselors at home in the case of an emergency.

The center is in W117 and is open Monday through Friday from 8 am to noon, and 1 pm to 5 pm. The answering service number is 787-7733. The center serves all members of the campus community. Strict confidentiality is maintained.
