Responsibility Urged

As a result of numerous complaints filed by pedestrians with the Campus Police regarding motorist failing to yield the right of way to pedestrians in the crosswalks and on one instance a near miss, the following warning is issued.

Failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian in a crosswalk or at an intersection where a crosswalk is not defined by white lines is a violation of the vehicle code and can result in the vehicle operator receiving a citation with a resulting fine of $25 plus $10 court cost and 2 points being charged against your driving record.

The Capitol Campus Police Department wishes to remind students, staff and faculty members, that the #2 PAState Inspection stickers expire on 31 January 1979. Any person operating a motor vehicle after this date with an expired sticker is subject to receive a Commonwealth Traffic Citation resulting in a fine of $25 plus $10 court cost. PENNDOT officials reported that no extensions will be granted.

Life After Capitol?

A series of workshops directed toward helping students find the jobs they want will be held on four consecutive Wednesday for those answering 'no' to any of the statements on the Career Quiz. There can be a satisfying work/life after Capitol Campus for those who are informed about the necessary and basic steps involved in securing the job they want, based on their qualifications. The Career Development Seminar, the third seminar in the '78/'79 Directions series, will comprehensively deal with those steps.

The Career Development workshops will be held January 17, 24, 31 and February 7 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., with the first workshop meeting in the auditorium. The workshops are being sponsored by the Counseling and Placement Centers and have been endorsed by the Council of Presidents and the Student Government Association.

Topics will include the most crucial elements of the career development process, such as the definition of career resume writing and effective interviewingskills. Participants must preregister for the workshops in the Counseling Center, beginning now and continuing until 5 p.m., Monday, January 15.
