ASME

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers' annual nomination of officers for the 79-80 year is currently in process.

The offices include president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. Nomination forms can be obtained from Professor Donald Miller in W-262 by 4:00 p.m. Wed., Feb 14.

Office positions should be carefully considered by any member who feels he possesses the capabilities of fulfilling its responsibilities.

Aside from apportioned duties, ranking officials of ASME can expect to be held in high regard by prospective employers. Also, the positions offer the opportunity to develop personal leadership traits, prestige and professionalism. The advantage of professionalism is clear to anyone who has started interviewing.

The society sincerely urges all interested persons to run for office and wishes the best of luck to those that accept the challenge.

The Yearbook Staff wants quality, out-of-the-ordinary candid photos of this unique campus. Drop them off as soon as possible to Rm. W-129. Initial them for they will be returned to you. We need them now!

Senior portraits will be taken February 24th 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; and the 26th, 27th and 28th from 5:30 to 9 p.m. in Rm. W-129. Sign up at Student Activities Office. $7 covers 4-6 photos, 5" by 5" and sitting fee. This is the last photo session for graduating seniors of 1979.

ROTC seniors at Capitol have received their branch assignments: Bernice Port - A Regular Army Commission with the Signal Corps. Among the active duty assignments were Mark Calhoun and Ken Jones with the Corps of Engineers, and Robert Watkins with Field Artillery. Charles Ruhl received a reserve assignment with Finance.

This weekend ROTC will be going on an explosive school demonstration at Indian Head Maryland.

GPP

Do you want another concert at the Forum? If so we need help!

Help is needed in selecting the entertainment, due to vacancies created. This is a chance for you to have your favorite band appear here.

Your duties will be to contact some of the vast number of booking agencies, and to find out who is on tour, and when they will be passing our way.

Most of the time is spent on the phone, but remember you will be helping to negotiate a contract.

If interested give me a call at 944-7831 or leave your name and phone # in GPP's mailbox.

Randy Myers and John Flanagan, co-editors of the 1979 Tarnhelm, the campus literary and art magazine, remind undergraduate and graduate students faculty, and staff that original writing, photography, and drawings may be deposited in the Tarnhelm box or left with the secretary in W-360.

Free to members of the Capitol Campus community, Tarnhelm is produced each May through a grant from the SGA. A few copies of last year's issue are still available by request at the Tarnhelm office..

All submissions of literary work are evaluated anonymously by the editorial staff. Names of writers are recorded on a master list by one editor and then blanked out on the submitted manuscript which is given a code number. Independent of each other, the staff members rate each piece according to what they consider its literary merit. Those which receive high ratings are automatically selected; other works are discussed until some agreement is reached.

Writers whose work is not selected are notified if they include name and full address with their work. Manuscripts, photographs, and other work submitted are available for pick-up in W-360 after publication of the Tarnhelm in late May.

All students interested in working on the publication staff as readers or in graphics or lay-out are invited to the next meeting which will be announced in the Reader. Your ideas and suggestions are welcomed.

International Affairs Association

On February 22, 23, and 24, the International Affairs Association of Penn State Capitol Campus in conjunction with the United Nations Assn. of Harrisburg will be sponsoring its seventh model United Nations. This model assembly of high school students is designed to promote greater understanding of the United Nations and will provide a forum for discussion of major international issues and concerns.

Groups of students will be assigned to serve as delegates from particular countries to the United Nations.

There are, at least, three delegates to each country and so far there are at least 48 delegates with a few more late entries expected.

There will be at least one hundred and fifty students coming this year from schools as far away as Bethesda, Md. and Ohio.

Students are needed to put up some high school students for the three days of the convention.

If you want to put up a student contact Patty Bloom or Sue Stapleton at 855 A Kirtland Ave., Middletown, 944-5440.

If your roommate is cranky and hates kids then there are other ways you can help.

Contact Andy Arce at 367-7726 or Tony Hyczko at 944-7205 or leave a note in the International Affairs Assn. mailbox in the SGA office.
