Does anybody out there want to attend a faculty council meeting or the administrative council so they can report to the SGA about the powers that be? Does anyone from the ranks of the new enthusiastic want to form a CAPB so they can allocate the remainder of our cash to worthy social events?

Would those Grad students that have the equal right to vote on their programs policy like to attend a few program meetings or draw plans for a grad student union?

Isn't anybody else out there tired of straight school diet and the nothing gets done "status quo" around here? If there is, contact your senator or drop a note in the suggestion box.

Oh, by the way, the year-book needs people to print negatives (to mention one), people on foot need rides to and from the Heights, and the Provost would like a special committee so he can hear from and talk to the students.

Perspectives

There will be a Winter Term Commencement on SAT., March 24.

According to the Office of Public Information, it will be held at 11 a.m. in the Multi-purpose Building.

Specific details will be mailed at a later date to those students who are completing their work at Penn State Capitol Campus this term.

Bitch

It is a conservative estimate that one out of every ten people are gay. Did it ever occur to you righteous heterosexuals sitting right next to you is a gay, one out of ten? Please keep your anti-gay remarks to yourselves. That lesbian/gay male listening to your 'gays are sick' statement is not openly attacking your lifestyle! -gay and healthy

I do not feel the services received are worthy of the $10 per term fee. Why else do we go to a public institution but to keep our education costs down?

I spend $10 per week for food. So $30 per year to park is almost a months worth of food."

Kevin M. O'Dare
Bus. Mgt., 8th Term
Yes, because I paid $10 my first semester here and to me that could have paid for a cold case of Bud to take my blues from this campus away.

Pat Taylor
Social Science, 8th Term
$10.00 is too much money per term. I would like to know where the money is going.

David Sowers
Humanities, 11th Term
The parking lot was here before the school was. If maintenance is the claim, then I want to see rhinestone-studded potholes."

Opinions at a glance

Do you think $10. per term in car fees is excessive?

Our campus does not benefit from thirty dollars a year. it is my understanding that the money we contribute as parking fee is not used only at Capitol Campus but rather it is put into a pool used by the entire PSU complex. Therefore we are paying for building parking lots and removing snow on other Penn State Campuses.

Dino Sorbello
Humanities, 8th Term
The $10 per term fee is definitely excessive, especially when you realize the money isn't even being spent at Capitol Campus; $30 a year for nothing is too much. They should try charging $1.00 for a permanent sticker like HACC does.

Mark Noll
MDET, 8th Term
Thirty dollars for each car is a lot of money to pay a cop to hand out tickets. They should be able to take care of snow and ice with the money, but they don't.

Chau Pham
MDET, 12th Term
That is too much. I had to pay $40 for last year (included summer). Reduced parking fee is much help for students, especially those who rely on financial aid.
