

TARNHELM

The Literary Magazine

of the Capitol Campus of Pennsylvania State University will hold a meeting on Monday, the 8th of October at 3:00 p.m.

in Room W 129

All students who are interested in working on the magazine are cordially invited to attend. Tarnhelm is brought out in the spring term, but we want to put together the staff early and make our preliminary plans.

Tarnhelm publishes short stories, poems, photographs, and graphics by students and faculty members. Those who wish to submit material for consideration by the staff may do so at anytime. Place your submission, with name, address, and telephone number, in the blue Tarnhelm box in the Humanities office, W 360. Reasonable care of submissions will be taken, but we cannot be held responsible for losses.

Tarnhelm is the literary magazine of the entire campus. Participation is not limited to the Humanities Program; we do not recognize such limits. We seek the freely ranging spirit of creativity, which narrow academic boundaries cannot encage.

Subject matter is entirely open. From the wildest flights of fantasy to the the sublimely simple moment, all that is human is in the purview of Tarnhelm. Quality is the only criterion of judgement.

No magazine can be better than the work submitted to it. Let's achieve excellence: please contribute your best story, poem, photograph, or graphic to Tarnhelm.

Thank you.
