

Caps look for victory

By Bruce Burns

After picking up only three wins in their first ten outings, the PSU/Capitol Basketball Lions hope to turn things around Saturday afternoon when the Patriots of Valley Forge Christian College visit the Multi-Purpose Building for a 3 p.m. tip-off.

One of the oldest cliches in sports describes a player's performance as, "He's doing it all." That cliché is quite accurate and up-to-date in the case of the Lion's junior center, Jack Wilson. He IS doing it all for PSU/Capitol Coach Dan Phillips.

Wilson leads the squad in scoring with a 26.9 points-per-game average. He is also the Lions' leader in field goals, free-throw shooting and blocked shots, and is tied for the leadership in steals with junior guard Ron Kuzo.

The 6 foot Kuzo leads PSU/Capitol in assists with 26, and is second to Wilson in several other categories. Kuzo's backcourt mate, 5-11 senior Bob Hudrick, has dealt off 22 assists. Forward Bob Hassel, a 6-3 junior, is second in rebounding, averaging just under five per outing. PSU/Capitol's other senior starter, 6-3 forward, Bennet Fox, is averaging close to four rebounds per game.

But hopes for a successful rebound from their slow start depend mostly upon the continued outstanding play of the 6-4 Wilson. The Philadelphia native put together his finest game for his hometown fans, as he poured in 44 points against Cabrini College last December in one of PSU/Capitol's greatest individual performances ever.

To their disadvantage, the Lions played eight of their ten games on the road. With eight of their remaining 15 contests at home, there is hope the win-loss record can improve. The schedule is formidable, however, with NAIA powers Eastern and Spring Garden among several top-notch clubs PSU/Capitol will face in the next two months.

Results from last evening's game with Philadelphia Pharmacy were not available by press time.
