XGI NEWS

On Friday, Feb. 29, members of Chi Gamma Iota visited the Lebanon Veterans Medical Center. Donuts, coffee, conversation and a bit of cheer were dispersed. Brothers Sam Bookheimer and Mike Sheldon led the musical session with guitar accompaniment. Sam and Mike composed an original melody for this occasion entitled "Maurice the Masochistic Mutt"; I can't say if it will make a gold, but it was enjoyed by all. A return trip for the Spring term may be planned.

Thanks to all members of the Fraternity who helped out at the concert on March 4. Just goes to show that one may work and still not miss out on all the festivities. Next regular business meeting is Tuesday, March 11, at the American Legion.

At the March 11 meeting, nominations for new officers will be made. All members are urged to attend and help select those persons YOU WANT FOR LEADERSHIP.

As always, our membership is open to all students attending Capitol. If you're interested, stop by W-114 and get to know some of the members. After all, Spring Term is around the bend, and precedent mandates that the Fraternity cut loose.

IAA NEWS

IAA is pleased to announce that the Model United Nations Conference was a success. Both students and advisors who attended were impressed with the organization and functioning of the agenda. This would not have been possible without the cooperation and support of students and administration. A special thanks to all the volunteers who helped staff the committees and sessions over the three days; all functions were carried out in a professional and competent manner. You may pride yourselves on a job well done.

On Tuesday, March 11, IAA/ Humanities are sponsoring a French Surrealist film entitled "Belle de Jour." Show time is 8 p.m. in the Auditorium; cost is 50 cents. English sub-titles are included.

WINTER CHORAL CONCERT

The Capitol Campus community is cordially invited to attend the Winter Concert to be given by the campus choral group in the Auditorium on Thursday, March 13, at 3:15 p.m. The choral group, comprised of approximately 25 students in Dr. Mahar's course, Music 302 is presenting the concert in partial fulfillment of course requirements.

A varied program of music will be performed, including Renaissance, early American, and spirituals and featuring a girl's chorus, a barbershop quartet, and several solo selections in addition to the full chorus.

The chorus is open to all students and staff. No experience is necessary - so if you like to sing, join us!

ATTENTION!!! PUBLIC POLICY STUDENTS

During the first two weeks of Spring Term the bulletin board outside of W161 will be made available to all public policy students interested in a BOOK SWAP. To register for the book swap, all you have to do is write the following on slips of paper that will be provided at the bulletin board:

Course Number, Book Author, Edition, Cost, Sell, Condition of Book, Your name and Phone number.

Since this is a completely voluntary service, it will only be successful if it is utilized.

Bulletin Board Essay contest

This year Capitol Campus will participate in a program sponsored by the Center for the Study of the Presidency. The highlight of this program will be a Student Symposium on the Presidency in the 1980s to be held April 11-13 in Washington D.C. As part of the program, essays written by students will be presented. In addition, presentations by Congressman John Anderson (R. Ill.), Senator Thomas Eagleton (D. Mo.) and other governmental officials will be featured. There will also be a series of panels, luncheon and dinner sessions, and a VIP tour of the White House, the Lincoln Memorial, the Capitol and Kennedy Center.

The Student Affairs Office and the Public Policy Program have joined to sponsor

Capitol Campus participation in this activity. There will be an essay contest to select the Capitol Campus student to participate in the symposium, this student to receive an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington. The three best papers submitted will be presented at a luncheon panel discussion in the Gallery Lounge during the second week in April. Students may submit essays of 1500 to 3000 words on "The Presidency and the Priorities of the 1980s." All entries should be submitted to the Student Affairs Office by 5 p.m., March 15, 1980. A panel consisting of Professors Barton, Bresler and Patterson will judge the entries.

For further information on this program, contact Dr. Bresler or Jerry South.
