Survival Tips

Here are a few helpful survival tips for new students at Capitol Campus.

One. Keep the following books beside you at all times for easy reference: Student Handbook, Policies and Rules for Students 1980-81, The Hilltopper (Resident Students), and Capitol Campus Vehicle Regulations. These manuals contain important information about all the clubs, eating places, bars, academic rules, resolution of student classroom problems, parking fines, and so on. So often students complain that they were not aware of a certain club or a certain policy -- most of the time the answer can be found in one of these books. Student Handbooks can be picked up at Student Activities (W-104), Policies and Rules for Students 1980-81 can be picked up at Student Affairs (W-103), Hilltoppers can be picked up at the Coffeehouse (946A Kirtland Ave.), and Vehicle Regulations can be picked up at Police Services.

Two. Make use of student services available to you. These include Student Affairs, Counseling Center, Health Services, International Advising, Placement Center, Police Services, Recreation Athletics, Student Activities, Finance Office, Financial Aid Counselor, Records Office, and Veterans' Coordinator.

Published biweekly by the students of the Capitol Campus of the Pennsylvania State University in Middletown, Pennsylvania.

The C.C. Reader has the following four-fold purpose: [1] to keep students informed about their campus community; [2] to provide editorial comment on issues facing the campus community; [3] to serve as a forum for student poetry, photographs, short stories, graphics, and other creative endeavors; [4] to serve as a learning mechanism for all students interested in the journalistic process. This includes reporting, editing, layout, typesetting, and paste-up.

All students are urged to express their views by contributing to the C.C. Reader.
