

Counseling Center News

Welcome all new students and welcome back returning students. For those of you not familiar with this column, Counseling Center News is a regular feature in the C.C. Reader. It is designed to keep both graduate and undergraduate students up to date on the many programs, services and resources of the Counseling Center, located in W-117 of the Main Building.

Study Skills Effectiveness Workshops

SET

Back by popular demand, Study Skills Effectiveness Training, a four-session workshop, will be meeting four consecutive Wednesday afternoons from 1:30-3:00 p.m. beginning January 21 and ending February 11, 1981.

S.E.T. topics include time management, review of basic study skills, reading for comprehension, test-taking hints and strategies, report writing and organization, and dealing with test anxiety. In addition, there will be special sessions for quantitative, scientific, educational, humanities, and behavioral science subjects.

Workshop participants will have an opportunity to work with materials that they are presently using in their courses and to discuss issues of common concern.

While there is no fee for this workshop, advance registration is requested. Interested students should pre-register in the Counseling Center no later than January 19, 1981.

Watch this column and the bulletin boards for information regarding a "Stress Reduction and Personal Growth" group beginning February 18, 1981.
