1981-82 Resident Assistant Screening To Begin

Resident Assistant Screening for the positions to be filled during the 1981-82 academic year will commence with a meeting for all interested persons on Wednesday, April 15, at 7:00 p.m. in the Gallery Lounge. All persons interested in applying for R.A. positions in the Residence Halls, Meade Heights and the University Apartments should come to the meeting in order to participate in a group discussion about the duties and responsibilities of the Resident Assistant, the benefits, and the experience to be gained in working with and helping fellow students.

Applications will be distributed along with instructions in completing them, and in the procurement of the required references. Those who have another commitment during the time of the meeting should arrange for a friend to attend for them, or to meet with a Residence Living Program Staff member to receive the information shared at the meeting. Applications will be available after April 15, from the R.A. Office in Wrisberg Hall, in the Residence Living Program Office/Coffee House at 946A Kirtland Avenue, or from any Resident Assistant.

Resident Assistant candidates for the 1981-82 academic year must have a 2.00 cumulative grade point average, and must have applied for on-campus housing for the Fall Term 1981. ### RED CROSS

By Kathy Kern

You are shopping at a department store when the man who is in line next to you gasps, clutches his chest, and falls to the floor. He begins to turn blue and his breathing ceases. What would you do?

If you've taken a Red Cross Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) course, you may save his life.

Besides offering basic instruction in CPR, the course teaches the individual to be aware of early warning signs, risk factors, and symptoms.

The technique of CPR is to provide artificial circulation and breathing to a person whose heart and lungs have stopped functioning because of a heart attack, shock, drowning, or other cause. External cardiac compressions administered manually are alternated with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in order to stimulate the natural functions of the heart and lungs, and so to save a life.

The Health Services Office here at Capitol Campus is conducting training sessions on CPR. There are still a few spaces available for the Feb. 25 session, which will be held from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. If you are interested in the night session, call the Health Services Office at 948-6015 after 5:30 p.m. and speak to the night nurse.

Perhaps you can save a life!

NO APOLOGY

From COLLEGIATE HEDLINES

(CH)--Staying home from a basketball game means never having to say you're sorry -- at least to the president of the University of California-Los Angeles student government.

Fred Gaines didn't attend the UCLA-University of Southern California contest in Pauley Pavilion, so he wasn't around when Bruin fans pulled out toy guns and shouted, "Shoot, Purvis, shoot" at USC player Purvis Miller. The chant was in reference to an allegation that Miller pulled a gun on a group of USC football players last summer.

John Sandbrook, assistant to the UCLA chancellor, was outraged by this behavior and wrote Gaines a letter, suggesting he write a public apology for publication in the UCLA and USC newspapers and other area media.

The student government president says he's not qualified to apologize for activity he didn't witness or participate in. Sandbrook says Gaines is shirking his responsibilities. The university administration says it's not involved in the conflict. And the fans say, "Go, Bruins!"
