

Sports

Bomb Squad captures I.M. crown

BOMBS AWAY!

By Yvonne Harhigh

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
APRIL 8, 1981

The Bomb Squad captured the 1980-81 Capitol Campus intramural basketball crown, defeating the Bay Area Bombers 38-19 before thousands of cheering fans (okay, maybe it was closer to two or three silent bystanders).

Jack Badstibner led the scoring with 18 points. Other Bomb Squad members, Mark Fuhrman and Mike Miller, added seven points each. The rest of the championship team includes: John Buzzy, Vince Tutich, Jim Weber, Mike Krahel, Tom Farquhar, and Mark Manion.

High scorer for the losing Bombers was Doug Long, with six points; Rick Joyce added five. Other team members include: Les Miller, George Kalinovich, Gary Yannes, Danny Villani, Jeff Davis, Clyde Myers, Ken Aducci, Vince Campellone, and Bill Day.

The Bomb Squad finished first in the regular season with a 13-1 record. They defeated the fourth-place Hershey Scrubs in semi-final action. The Bombers ended the season tied for second with Martino's Men, both 12-2; they beat Martino's Men in semi-final play.

Bomb Squad
Jack Badstibner	18
Mark Fuhrman	7
Mike Miller	7
Mike Krahel	4
Tom Farquhar	2
John Buzzy
Mark Manion
Jim Weber
Steve Cremona
Vince Tutich
Total	38

Bay Area Bombers
Doug Long	6
Rick Joyce	5
Lester Miller	4
George Kalinovich	2
Jeff Davis	2
Gary Yannes
Bill Day
Total	19

Intramural Basketball

FINAL STANDINGS

	WON	LOST
Bomb Squad	13	1 *
Bay Area Bombers	12	2 *
Martino's Men	12	2 *
Hershey Scrubs	10	4 *
NADZ	9	5
Frederick's of Hollywood	8	6
Night Riders	6	7
HMC 2nd Year	5	9
Raiders	4	9
US	5	9
Hershey Highway	4	9
Mad Dogs	4	9
Quaaludes	4	10
Coal Crackers	3	11
Pa.'s Hershey	1	13

* Indicates playoff teams

TOP SCORERS
SINGLE GAME

WEEK OF MARCH 2

1. Chris Rebert	23
2. Harrison	22
3. Dave Dell	19
4. Dave Washko	19
5. Barry Cummings	17
6. Kevin Gerace	16
7. Frank Notturmo	15
8. Fields	14
9. Guy Warrington	14
10. Ribic	14
11. Murmello	14
12. Nancy Abbey	13
13. Matea	11
14. Jim Natale	11
15. Marty DeFrancesco	10
16. Lopiccolo	10
17. Ken Aducci	10
18. DeFrank	10

WEEK OF MARCH 9

1. Jack Badstibner	28
2. Chris Rebert	25
3. Barry Cummings	20
4. Doug Long	20
5. Chris Rebert	20
6. Ken Aducci	18
7. McEntee	18
8. Hylinski	18
9. Barry Cummings	16
10. George Kalinovich	16
11. G. Daileda	16
12. Dolinsky	15
13. D. Hazen	15
14. George Kalinovich	15
15. Lopiccolo	14
16. Ken Aducci	14
17. Davis	14

WEEK OF MARCH 30

1. Dave Dell	25
2. Marty DeFrancesco	21
3. George Kalinovich	19
4. Jack Badstibner	18
5. Nancy Abbey	18
6. Lafferty	18
7. Walchak	14
8. Dave Long	13
9. Marty DeFrancesco	13
10. Kennane	12
11. Badway	12
12. Jim Natale	12
13. Volovar	12
14. Rick Joyce	11
15. John Buzzy	10

NHL Update

By Kevin Spiegel

Believe it or not, the Montreal Canadiens have been eliminated by the Edmonton Oilers! I bet you couldn't name five guys on that team, excluding Wayne Gretzky. Well, how would you like to have been ousted by a goaltender named Moog? The Oilers have the youngest team in the NHL (average age 24) and maybe, just maybe, they could be the team to reckon with this year, if not, next year.

But overall, I think the team to beat has to be the defending champions from Long Island. The Islanders faced no competition while beating Toronto in three straight. They possess so much depth that in their final regular season game they sat out Bossy, Trottier, Potvin, Kallur, and Goring. They even played their second-string goalie, Roland Melanson. Final score—Isles 7, Buffalo 3. The defense rests.

Another surprise has to be the Minnesota North Stars. They were the winning team, meaning that Boston had the home-ice advantage in their playoff series. In addition, in the North Stars' history they had never won in the Boston Garden. Throw that statistic away, or just burn it! The Stars shocked Beantown by destroying the Bruins twice in the Garden. Then they came home and wrapped things up to advance another round in the playoffs.

Another team that advanced, in a surprise, was the New York Rangers. They defeated the Los Angeles Kings three games to one. In a series that was marred by a record-setting brawl, the Rangers kept their cool and played good solid hockey. They were led by rookie netminder Steve Baker, who played the best hockey of his young career.

Calgary also swept its series rather easily. Buffalo, with its splendid goaltending, romped over the Vancouver Canucks in three straight.

Looking at some NHL awards that should be handed out, but aren't:

Best Player's Fiancee Award: Charlie Simmer of the L.A. Kings, whose fiancee is Playmate Teri Welles.

Best Brother Combination: Peter and Anton Statsny (who else!)

Best Brawl: N.Y. Rangers vs. L.A. Kings between periods one and two (4/11/81)

Best National Anthem Singer: Patti LuPone (the star of "Evita")

Best Referee: Fill in your own

Five Players Who Would Fight Their Mothers (excluding ex-flyer Dave Schultz): 1. Stan Jonathan—Bruins 2. Nick Fotiu—Rangers 3. Paul Holmgren—Rangers 4. Dave "Tiger" Williams—Canucks 5. Gary Howatt—Islanders

Best Post-Season Goalie To Slander Against Montreal: Andy Moog of Edmonton.

Fastest Player: It's your choice.

Biggest Disappointment This Season (player): Rogie Vachon, who was supposed to lead the Bruins deep into the playoffs

Biggest Disappointment This Season (team): Canadiens, for not winning a post-season game.

Best Announcer: Tie between Marv Albert, Rangers, and Dan Kelly, Blues.

Most Dedicated Fan: Mark Yantek (Pgh. Penguin Fan).

Stupidest Penalty: Goaltenders who leave the crease during an altercation (there's no hand signal given).

Five Players Who Head For Their Bench During A Brawl: 1. Butch Goring, Islanders (zero penalty minutes) 2. Bobby Clarke, Flyers 3. Phil Esposito, Rangers 4. Wayne Gretzky, Oilers 5. Fleet Becker, Strat-O-Matics

Most Penalty Minutes By A Third Floor Wrisberg Student: Martin Lindenberger in 302