DELTA TAU KAPPA

Delta Tau Kappa is pleased to announce that the following students have been accepted into the Honor Society: Mark Bush, Sandy Fanus, Debbie Gantt, Bob Ketterlinus, Kathleen Kreider, Jackie Lerch, and Linda Meashy. We congratulate these people on their scholastic achievements.

At our October 27 meeting, plans were made for our fall term research paper competition. In conjunction with this, it was decided that we will participate in the Susquehanna Area Undergraduate Social Research Conference on April 26, 1982 at Gettysburg College. The author of the best paper as well as other interested students will be invited to attend.

Also discussed were possible designs for our T-shirts. Following the business portion of the meeting, the psychology of humor was discussed. Did you hear the one about the professor's daughter?—Then come to the next meeting. Check the bulletin board across from the Gallery Lounge. If you wish, contact any of these officers: Kevin Frederick, President (944-3694); Kathy Lamb, Vice-President (944-0714); Grace Dickensheets, Treasurer (737-6350); or Justina Pitts, Secretary (948-7968).

ASSOCIATION OF ACCOUNTING STUDENTS

The Association of Accounting Students is sponsoring a dance-party on November 3 at the Student Center from 8:00 to 1:00. This event will be known as the Election Day Extravaganza and a live band will be performing, known as The Bent Poles, one of Harrisburg's foremost rock-new wave bands. Your favorite refreshments will be provided by AAS. "A splendid time is guaranteed for all."

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS ASSOCIATION

The International Affairs Association would like to thank everyone who came to the International Dinner on October 23 and made it a huge success. The Dinner was just the beginning of what appears to be a very fulfilling year for not only the members of the Association, but the entire campus.

The major events of the organization culminate on March 4, 5, and 6 of 1982 with the tenth annual Capitol Campus Model United Nations. All of the seniors can remember last year's conference when a few hundred high school students swarmed the campus. This year's conference, marking the tenth anniversary, will be even more grandiose than the previous nine. Members of the organization chair each of the committees within the conference and gain large educational and social benefits.

Before holding the Capitol Campus Model U.N., members of the organization participate in model U.N.'s on the college level. Next month at the University of Pennsylvania a delegation of five is being sent to a conference. In developing the best delegation, I.A.A. is seeking Capitol Campus' finest scholars on foreign policy. If you are interested in participating in this type of affair, please leave your name and telephone number in the I.A.A. mailbox in the SGA outer office or speak with any I.A.A. member. We will be pleased to have you join us.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL

I would like to thank the Accounting Club, Beta Chi, RSC, Photo Club, and M.H.B.O.G. for putting together the first annual "Autumn Buzz." It was a huge success from Wendy and "The Eyes" right down to the Road Rallye.

If you missed this weekend, I hope that you are juniors, so that you have a chance to attend next year's "Buzz."

Again, thanks to everyone who helped. It was great.

Steve King
Chairman, President's Council

GRADUATE STUDENT UNION

The Graduate Student Union is holding a "Turkey Raffle" beginning on November 3. Tickets for "the prize," a Thanksgiving Basket including turkey and bottles of cheer, can be purchased from a G.S.U. representative for one dollar. Watch for details on our posters!

The next meeting of the Graduate Student Union is Tuesday, November 3 at 3:30 in the BCAC on the west wing of the first floor. At this meeting, the Turkey Raffle will be discussed as well as future plans for winter term. We need as many graduate students as possible to sell and buy tickets, so please attend this important meeting.

Some Capitol News Briefs

CHANGES ARE MADE... BY POPULAR DEMAND

Due to an increase in the use of the Gallery Lounge it has become necessary to redefine those events which may be held there. Events such as receptions, speakers, and cultural performances may be booked in the Lounge. Films, club business meetings, and classes may no longer be held in the Gallery Lounge.

Any questions regarding this change should be directed to Kathy Branigan in the Student Activities Office.

YOU CAN LOOK IT UP

For a thorough review of academic rules, the Code of Conduct, regulations pertaining to student organizations, all students are urged to obtain a copy of the 1981-82 Policies and Rules for Students. Other policy statements discussed in this manual include the resolution of classroom grievances, the statement on non-discrimination and the policy on confidentiality of student records.

Policies and Rules is available in the Office of Student Affairs (W-105).

Capitol Collage

You have finally made it Capitol. First a new sign in front of the campus, and now your very own gossip column. I have tried hard to be as trashy as the Enquirer, but without the lawsuits, so there will be no names and no cruel rumors. Fun is the main objective here.

Let's start with the dorm beat. Wisberg seems to be the natural starting place. Third floor should be congratulated for winning the first annual "Autumn Buzz" volleyball tournament. They call themselves the zoo—reports are that is what the floor is... need I say more? Second floor Wisberg seem to be lady killers. It must be all those soccer players up there. Soccer players don't get to use their hands very much in games, so they use them a lot when they're not playing—soccer, that is. There's not much activity on first floor. The girls are getting used to living with a lot of guys, and the guys are slowly getting used to the girls. I guess Wisberg isn't the place to be on a long winter evening.

Church Hall seems a little more lively. It seems as if first floor has started its own army. C.C. Commandos? Yeah, I thought it was a joke too, but they really are serious. "Fighting off boredom" is their motto. But wait, it gets worse. Third floor Church decided to go to war with first floor. Last Wednesday evening there was an all-out battle. Each floor had a flag and an army. They hid the flag and then tried to find the other team. The first team to get the other's flag was the winner. First floor pulled a fast one, though, and it was a mis-war. They hung a decoy flag out of bounds. The rules said no decoys, but first floor maintains that since it was out of bounds they didn't cheat. I guess that's one way to look at it. The next time they play, however, no one will pull any tricks. They are playing for a keg of beer. That game should really separate the men from the boys... the boys will be playing.

There is a floor in Church Hall that has retained some dignity—second floor. These girls come up with flying colors in this reporter's book. They party hearty, but they are discreet. Secrets abound, but more about them next issue. By the way, how many girls on one end of the hall know three girls from the other end?

SOME "SNOW" BUSINESS

The Campus Relations Office will be the Weather Day Center. Any information concerning class cancellations due to inclement weather will be available in that office. The weather day center will be operational from 6:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on weather days.

The Campus Relations Office can be contacted by calling 948-6000. Also, local radio and television stations will be notified if and when the school is completely closed.

WHAT'S USPP?

A new student organization is being contemplated—the USPP. USPP stands for Unhappy Students' Pity Party. It will strive to bring together all of us who are feeling the strain of heavy, almost ridiculous work loads, pop quizzes, multiple term papers, and killer tests.

A field trip to Guyanna is planned, and refreshments will be served.

All interested students please cut this article out of the paper and leave it in the SGA's outer office area.

Meade Heights has been a little more exciting, but then "The Heights" always is. Parties, Parties, Parties. Tuesday October 13 was a big night. It seems that there was a party where a lot of beer was consumed (nothing unusual, right?). If you think back, it was kind of nippy that evening, so someone decided to start a fire. By the end of the evening the guys had burned all of their furniture—their couch and chairs, plus a couch from someone else's house. How would you like to come home to find your couch in someone else's fire? There was a fight later in the evening, two guys came crashing out of the front window. One of them was the host. Get the general mood of the party? Oktoberfest weekend was a real blowout there, too, with at least three major parties a night. Saturday evening the big success was on Kirtland Avenue. This reporter heard that a lot of beer was left, however. Maybe they were doing other things at that party? That fire outside was really warm. Of course JR had a party. All the "right" people were there drinking out of beer mugs instead of common plastic cups. Now you know how to tell a good party from a great party. (Hint: JR's are the good parties.)

Believe it or not, there was a good party in the dorms on the 20th. First floor Church had a wine and cheese party. No jeans or sneakers that evening, and boy did everyone look great! John Buzzy, as RA on that floor, set the pace and looked foxy as usual, with the extra zing of a white hat! Some first floor guys know how to treat women well.

Moving up to the Main Building, a silver star goes to Dr. Mahar for donating a piano to the Student Center. If you want to use it, see an RA for the key. Wouldn't it be nice if you wouldn't have to lock things up around here?

There is also a little news in the campus radio station. It seems that Mark and Crazy K are definitely "cruisin'!" There is also a late Wednesday afternoon doubleheader that has something going—she comes on at 4, and he's on at 6. My question is what goes on at 8? Isn't radio exciting?

The golden lion award goes to M.H.B.O.G. and RSC for an excellent weekend. A lot of students took time from their weekend to serve us. They made a real "Buzz." Take some time this weekend to appreciate student services—either through a ghoulish gram or just by dressing up and going out to the Bizarre Bazaar. I guarantee you'll like it.

Well, until next time remember the prophetic words of George Thourgood from "One whisky one scotch and one beer, you ain't really high 'till your mouth is dry." Have a good one!

New Faculty Members

Five faculty members have been named to the staff of the division of science, engineering, and technology at Capitol Campus, according to Dr. Theodore L. Gross, provost and dean.

Dr. Chin Y. Cha has been named assistant professor of engineering and technology; Cheryl A. Ebel has been designated assistant professor of engineering technology; Dr. George G.S. Lin has joined the faculty as assistant professor of engineering technology; Ali Faradj-Bakht comes to Capitol as an instructor in mathematics; and Dr. Robert L. Wadlinger has been named assistant professor of chemistry.
