

Slow start of B-ball

By Thomas Dekle

The Capitol Campus Basketball Team is off to a rough start in the 1982-1983 season.

With one game to go to the Christmas break, the Lions are 0 and 4 on the season.

The season started with a home game on November 18th against top-ranked Shepherd College Rams from Shepherdstown, W. Va. The Rams handed the Lions a 105 to 79 loss.

The Lions then traveled to Lebanon Valley College on November 20. At Lebanon Valley, the team lost 100 to 38. Mike Hoffner led the Lions with 12 points while Lee Holtz contributed 11.

The Lions then headed home to meet Swarthmore College.

Lee Holtz led the Lion scorers with 17 points while the team kept the score close and often led in the second half before losing in the last five minutes 64 to 50.

The next game was on November 30th against Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. When traveling down to Philadelphia the team again found a much bigger, faster, and more talented team. Mike Hoffner led the Lions with 17 points while Charlie Stokes contributed 15 in a losing effort with the final score being 91 to 63.

At the game:

In upper right Capitol's Bob Zahno jumps for a layup while the campus lion, below, poses with cheerleaders Vera Maleckyj (left) and Joanne Rowe (right).

Back cover photos by Jane Hart

Cover photo by Jerry Trends

Capitol

Times

Vol. 17, No. 3 December 6, 1982

Mock U.N. Conference
Capitol Students are Nigerians
page...3

New Teaching Approaches
Make learning Fun
page...11

Sex and the Clergy
Author-Priest Discusses Novels
page...13

All Work, No Play? How to Cope With Stress page...5

