Study rooms now available

Classrooms No. W-208, W-209, W-212 and W-225 will be made available to students as study rooms after 10:30 PM, Monday through Friday throughout the term.

Arrangements have been made to provide custodial services in these rooms between 5:00 AM - 7:00 AM daily.

All other classrooms will remain closed during the night in order to reduce security and custodial work.

"Extravaganza" deadline extended

The deadline for participation in the Miss Capitol Campus Entertainment Extravaganza '83 has been extended until May 2. The event will be staged in the school auditorium on the evening of May 14, 1983, beginning at 8 p.m.

For more information on how YOU can get involved or for tickets, contact co-directors George Yanoshik, at 948-0105 or Kim Guzzi, at 948-0150, or drop by the Capitol Times office, W-129.

The show is being sponsored by the Capitol Times.

Doris Hughes Award information available

Applications and nominations are now being accepted for the 1983 Doris Hughes Memorial Award. The award recognizes international students who have actively participated in campus activities and have achieved academic success.
