One of the main reasons Ansary said he came to Capitol Campus was because he was very impressed with the quality of faculty here.

"I feel that a good faculty insures better output," Ansary said.

He also said that the courses offered and the engineering department in general contributed to his selection in coming to Capitol.

"As an instructor I want to be in the atmosphere with the greatest potential for growth, my growth and that of my students," Ansary said.

Alhamdoullah Ansary

Alhamdoullah "Omid" Ansary of Highspire is another new addition to the engineering faculty.

Ansary received a Masters degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of Akron, in Ohio and is currently working towards a Ph.D.
