

Baltimore Artist's Paintings on Exhibit

A show of contemporary expressionistic paintings dealing with mythical, mystical and universal concepts of spirituality is the current exhibit in the Humanities Gallery. The artist, Catherine A. Jones of Baltimore, has been strongly influenced by Albert Pinkham Ryder and, like him, paints loosely, attempting to express the inner spirit rather than the surface of reality. Contemporary feminist writers who have dealt with ancient religions and philosophers are also inspirational sources for the artist who wants to convey a sense of the feminine ego through the work.

A graduate of the State University College at Buffalo and the Maryland Institute College of Art, Jones has exhibited throughout Maryland and is scheduled for a show at the Amos Eno Gallery, New York City. This is her first exhibit in the Harrisburg area.

The Humanities Gallery is located on the third floor of the Olmsted Building in W-352 and W-360. Hours are 8-5 pm Monday through Friday and evenings when faculty are in their offices. The show will run through October.

Returning Adults Invited to Brown Bag Lunch

On Tuesday, September 22, from 12 - 2 pm in the Gallery Lounge there will be a meeting of anyone interested in joining a new club for returning adult students. Conceived as a support group, new members will be given the opportunity to offer input on what activities they would like to see the club pursue.

During the meeting, students will be able to review a proposed set of by-laws, and sign a petition needed for presentation to SGA to become a club. A nominating committee will also be formed to proceed in the election of officers.

Anyone interested in attending should bring a covered dish and hear about this new organization. Beverage and paper products will be provided. For further information contact Ruth Britton at 737-1601.

Active Schedule Planned By XGIs

By Bernie Mixon

The XGIs are busy this semester. In addition to sponsoring the blood drive, they are planning three other activities. All are veteran related.

The first is a bus trip to the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial in Washington, D.C. The projected date is November 7. On November 11 at 5pm, there will be a ceremony to honor the dead. Included in the ceremony are bugle calls, the shooting of a cannon, lowering of the flag, and taps will be played. All servicemen and reservists are invited to wear their uniforms and all members of the campus community are invited to attend. Later in November, just before the Thanksgiving holiday, the club will visit the Veteran's Hospital in Lebanon to spread some good cheer and to deliver goodies to the patients.

If any of the activities mentioned seem to catch your eye, you may consider joining the XGIs. It doesn't matter who you are, male or female; civilian or serviceperson. You could have some fun while doing a good service to the community.

Before you choose a long distance service, take a close look.

You may be thinking about choosing one of the newer carriers over AT&T in order to save money.

Think again.

Since January 1987, AT&T's rates have dropped more than 15% for direct-dialed out-of-state calls. So they're lower than you probably realize. For information on specific rates, you can call us at 1 800 222-0300.

And AT&T offers clear long distance connections, operator assistance, 24-hour customer service, and immediate credit for wrong numbers. Plus, you can use AT&T to call from anywhere to anywhere, all over the United States and to over 250 countries.

You might be surprised at how good a value AT&T really is. So before you choose a long distance company, pick up the phone.
