

Gallery Features Graduate Student's Paintings

Watercolors by Linda Eberly, a Humanities graduate student, are currently on display in the Humanities Gallery, W-352 and W-360.

The artist is interested in evoking a feeling of light without illustrating light. Adobe forms provide the structural surfaces and shapes which Eberly transforms through her layering of glowing, transparent color. This delicate treatment of massive walls results in a mysterious quality that pervades the artist's work.

The exhibit is the culmination of an independent study Eberly undertook last fall under the direction of Linda Ross. The paintings will be on display through this month.

A Mount Joy resident, the artist has worked as a photographer and is currently employed by the Lancaster Sunday News as a staff artist. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Millersville University.

Study Abroad This Summer in Italy June 17–August 6, 1988

Spend the summer studying and touring Italy during Penn State's fourth annual interdisciplinary Summer Abroad program. Students live with families in centrally located, picturesque Todi, Italy. All courses are taught in English, except for the language course. The limited enrollment of 20 students will permit a faculty-student ratio of 1.5 to 1 in a region that has a rich cultural heritage.

The program is a continuing education service of the Penn State Office of Education Abroad.
