Club Fest held to Attract New Members

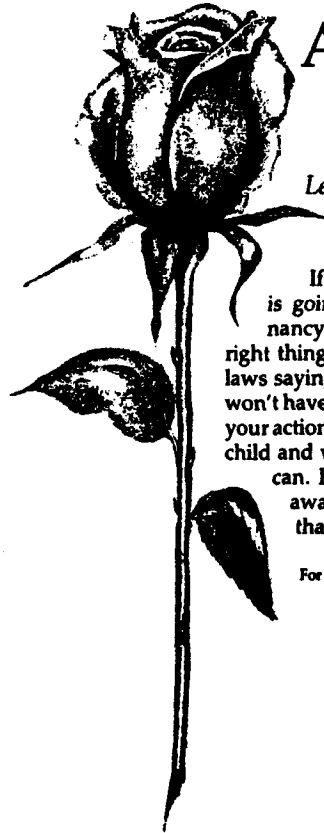

On Thursday, Jan. 21 officers and members of various clubs gathered in the Gallery Lounge to try to attract new members. The SGA club fest, which is held at the beginning of each semester, is a good opportunity for clubs to recruit new students and returning students by providing a forum for information and presentations.

This particular club fest saw a large number of people come through the lounge during the two hours. To attract people to their organization, clubs plied them with colorful posters, brownies, and soft drinks.
