

Valentine Wishes

Dear Dave & Kris,
I want to wish you well in your life together.
Please, always remember to keep the communication lines open.
Love, Henry
P.S. don't forget my towels.

To: Renae
I've seen your quick glancing smile slip quietly past me in the halls, yet there is a sensual innocence about you, which has charmed my heart. It's left me obsessed with the desire that you become part of my life.
J.G.

To all the women I have ever met:
You have the most beautiful eyes I have ever seen.
Love Derrick Stokes.

Desperately seeking Susan!

Amy,
We started so fast, now I just want us to last,
tell me what I must do to make you feel as I do,
because I love you.

To Adam;
I asked God to give me the words to stress how true my feelings are for you.
They were very simple--
I Love You!
Happy Valentine's Day.
The Rib.

Jenny,
Love can be as sweet as a helping of whip cream, or as painful as any wound ever inflicted.

There are so many ways to describe love: innocent, strong, precious, passionate...but if anyone asks me what love means, I would simply whisper your name.
You are love to me!
Mark

Ken,
As these final days pass before our wedding, I want you to know I have no doubts and want to wake up, forever by your side.

To the Little Red Headed Girl:
Whenever it seems I finally have you within my grasp, something pulls you from me and returns you to my dreams.
Yours Forever,
Charlie Brown.

Cheryl,
I find myself envying the pencil which you press against your lips, watching your grip tighten as your thought changes.
I can't help but hate the chair which is supporting you, for I wish it were me.
Everything that surrounds you has become my foe.
Since the first time I saw you I've wanted to keep you forever to myself, like a honeybee which has found the sweetest flower in the field.
Let me be everything for you.
T.H.G.C.

To my dream:
With every question you answer, another one arises.
A dream you may be but soon possibly a reality?
Who knows? All I know is that when our paths cross I have a blast.
By the way lets stop these semi-annual visits!

Vicki:
When you are not near the best part of myself is missing.
An incomplete feeling takes over my soul and my mind wanders to thoughts and dreams of you.

violets are blue
Don't you hate when someone starts a poem that way!

Lion Ambassadors brighten the look of PSH.

Dave,
I wish we could forget about the past, and look toward the future.
love Chrissy

You have rocked my world and I want to tell you girl you'll never have anything to worry about, because I'm gonna make everything work out.
Love, Q-man.

Roxanne,
It is killing me not being able to tell you how I feel.
But for now I see you love another and I am not worthy of you.
Yours forever, C.D.

Lisa,
You are the coolest chick I've ever met.
Bob.

Trish,
I can't remember anything about before we met; my life began with you.
J.D.

Kelly,
Are your parent's leaving you the car keys this weekend.
Love WIRSBIMY

Paul,
yes, it is yours!
Janet.

"Mon-Chi-Chi"
You're so cute and cuddly!

Has it rained Hershey Kisses recently:
Did I over do it?
I didn't mean to.
I only hope I can have another chance.
Signed,
Just a bit nuts!

To my hot tub partner,
The wine was fantastic.
The candles were glowing and your touch was so soft.
I will never forget you.

Bob:
Life and you; you and life.
Which means more to me?
Neither. For now Saturday means the most to me and hopefully the six month wait will be worth it.
Alissa

A long distance dedication to Ma:
From your Bushwoman and your Beetlejuice comes a special Valentines Day wish. We wanted to give you a present but how do you send love? And where can we get a receipt?

Vic and Al.
P.S. Let's renegotiate our allowance.
