Oldest student organization at PSH needs members

Veterans group formed in '68 still active; needs students

Chi Gamma Iota - a Veterans organization comprised of active duty, and former members of the U.S. Armed forces and friends is recruiting members for its organization. Chartered in 1968, the XGI's are the oldest student organization at Penn State Harrisburg still in existence. Over the years, the XGI's as they are known have provided support to the campus and community in many ways. Currently, the group conducts a blood drive twice an academic year and organizes an annual Veterans Day ceremony. Members of all branches of the Armed Forces, active duty, reserve, or honorably discharged as well as interested friends are welcome to join. Job seeking secrets at the federal and state level as well as mentoring and networking with former members are just a few of the opportunities available. Interested students should contact Jay Browning, XGI Staff Advisor at 948-6316 or email at erbl41@psu.edu.

Movie Review

By Brooke Potteiger

Go see Barbershop right now; it's the funniest movie I've seen in a long time. Written by Mark Brown and Directed by Tim Story, it has an all-star cast: Ice Cube, Cedric the Entertainer, and Eve. Ice Cube is just so cool, living up to his name. He plays Calvin, third generation owner of Calvin's Barbershop. The shop is floundering when the movie begins. As he searches for a solution, he learns a lot about what constitutes true wealth, with the help of the fantastic supporting cast.

from across the street from the shop. They then drag it all over town trying to open it. The style is slapstick, reminiscent of the Three Stooges, the third being the ATM. The plots weave in and out of each other before finally colliding at the end.

Cedric steals the show. He plays an old, wise barber who teaches the young kids valuable lessons. He delivers the most effective dramatic monologue and the best one-liners. Eve shows her versatility by bringing spirit and warmth to Terri, the feisty barb-ette.

This is a feel good movie, but it is one of the highest caliber. It's hilarious, has thought-provoking subject matter, and a great soundtrack. Take a date to this movie; they'll think you're really cool.

The subplot is one of two bungling burglars who steal an ATM machine

The Man of Peace does not hate. He bares no ill will towards people who would wrong him, those that would attack him, and those who would hurt him. He feels not anger, but love for them. He loves them because they challenge his spirit and will. He loves them because they make him stronger. He loves them because no one else will.

You see, the Man of Peace breaks the cycle of greed and hatred because he will not placate to it. He is the man who says enough. No matter how much he is hurt, his compassionate nature is never broke; his kindness is never altered, and his love is not forgotten.

It is the Men of Peace who change the world, who alter it forever. In our world today, and possibly at any time, there are not many of these people.

So I ask my readers, which are you?
 I ask another question, what should we all aspire to be?
