Featuring: Anti-Flag, Poison the Well, Snapcase, The Movie Life, Cave In, Eighteen Visions, and 26 other great bands.

Before writing a review for this album, let me briefly describe what this is all about. This is the second installment of the "Plea for Peace" compilations. These albums are to raise awareness to suicide prevention. A portion of the proceeds earned by the artists and Sub City from the sale of this album are being donated to THE NATIONAL HOPELINE NETWORK (1-800-SUICIDE).

With that being said, I have to say that this is (probably) the best compilation I've ever heard. This album contains new songs from the best in hardcore and punk. With over two hours of solid heaviness, if this doesn't make you want to break people's faces, nothing will. Buy this album (it's only five dollars for Pete's sake).

Kill Whitey!
LABEL: GO-
KART RECORDS
RELEASE DATE:
AUGUST 2002
GENRE: PUNK
OVERALL RATING:

Hailing from NYC, this quintet comes through on their powerful debut. Featuring members of Choking Victim and Leftover Crack, this group delivers a not so controversial effort, as compared to CV or L.O.C. "Kill Whitey!" is a decent album, but it's way too under-produced. It sounds like it was recorded in the basement of someone's house. Some memorable tracks on this album are, "Rent for Sale" and "East Coast Rising." Unless you are a die hard fan of their other bands, I would just find someone who has this and burn it. For more information on INDK, go to:

Harry Potter

...and the Chamber of Secrets

When someone says sequel, some think American Pie 2 and some think Hot Shots part Duex, but when it comes to Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets its more like Empire Strikes Back. It has the qualities of any first installment. This movie could stand on its own with little to no prior knowledge of the books or the first film. Chamber of Secrets had a slightly darker edge that Sorcerer's Stone with more evil plotting, bad guys and attempted murders.

Harry Potter returns to Hogwart's School for another term, but before hand is warned not to go back by a house elf, which Harry soon finds out is owned my Lucius, Draco's father. When Harry and his friend Ron get back to Hogwart's, there is trouble from the very beginning. There is a sort of prejudice brewing between the pure blood wizards and the half-blooded ones or "mud bloods", like Hermione.

Harry soon begins hearing voices, which lead him to a message that says the Chamber of Secrets has been opened. After the discovery of this message, mud bloods begin turning up petrified. Hermione becomes one of the petrified students and Harry must find the Chamber of Secrets and the monster that is harming his friends, before anyone dies. In order to find out what happens you will have to see the movie, which I highly recommend doing.

With many of the old characters returning, and a few new faces like Kenneth Branagh (noted Shakespearian actor and director) as the egotistical Gilderoy Lockhart, this movie is sure to please everyone in the family who loves a little magic and adventure.

My Rating: *****

- * DON'T WASTE YOUR TIME
- ** RENTING IT MIGHT BE PAINFUL
- *** NOT WORTH 7 BUX AT A THEATRE, BUT MAYBE 4 BUX AT BLOCKBUSTER
- **** I'D SEE IT IF THE WASN'T ANYTHING BETTER TO DO OR SEE
- ***** GO SEE IT NOW!
