Things Nector To Know

The Committee on Honorary Degrees is seeking input for a list of potential recipients of an honorary doctoral degree from Penn State. The list will include eminent scholars, performers, artists and practitioners in academic fields, and individuals who have made particularly distinguished contributions to society in areas such as public service, business or government.

Nominations should include the name and a short biography, if one is readily available. Send nominations to Steve MacCarthy, vice president for University Relations, 201 Old Main, University Park or via e-mail to maccarthy@psu.edu by Monday, March 20.

Penn State is looking for out-of-state students who will be home over spring break and are interested in sharing their Penn State pride. Every year, the Undergraduate Admissions Office hosts informational programs for high school students and families in selected areas outside Pennsylvania. These programs provide an informal opportunity for prospective students and their families to ask questions, make contacts with alumni and current students, and learn more about what their future could hold at Penn State. For more information visit http:// www.psu.edu/admissions/outofstate/ events/offer.htm online.

Information Technology Services will implement the use of WebAccess for users logging on to Penn State's Course Management System, ANGEL, at https://cms. psu.edu/ on March 6. The new logon process will allow individuals to log on once using a Penn State Access Account or Friends of Penn State account userid and password to any Penn State service using WebAccess, then be able to access any other without logging on again.

The list of intercollegiate varsity athletic teams at Penn State Harrisburg will grow to 11 this fall. The campus, which re-established an intercollegiate athletic program last fall after an absence of more than a decade, announced that men's and women's golf and tennis teams will begin Penn State University Athletic Conference play during the fall semester. For information on intercollegiate athletics, contact Carlton at (717) 948-6744 or e-mail rlc122@psu.edu.
