Action of Synods on Home Missions-Synon of MISSOURI. — We would most emphatically express our satisfaction with the manifest determination of our church, as represented in the General Assembly, to carry on the great work of Home Missions, in the legitimate and proper use of our Church instrumentalities. We especially express our earnest hope that the next General Assembly will perfect our Church arrangements for Home Missions, so that our Presbyteries and Synods shall have the management of the Home Missionary work in their respective fields, being duly encouraged and aided therein by the Church at large, through such committee or other agency, as the General Assembly may establish."

Later intelligence speaks of great mortality in Damascus. The correspondent, under date of Sept.

The Turks have done absolutely nothing for the sanitary condition of Damaseus, and even here in Colored Fai Beirut the relief committee are about employing twenty men to sweep the streets, as the government will not do it. Yesterday we were all shocked and amazed to hear of the increasing mortality among the refugees in Beirut. The government provided quarters in the quarantine grounds for about 2,500 of the widows and orphans from Deir-el-Komr, and Hasbeiya, etc. Now we hear that out of 600 children who were in that company, about 100 have died!

Fuad Pasha has gone inland with 3,000 Turkish troops. On Tuesday, Sept. 25, the French army set out from Beirut for Lebanon. One detachment of 2,000 went up the Damascus road to Ain Soufar, near B'Hamdun, and another of nearly 4,000 marched up the old highway to Deir-el-Komr. A multitude of native Christians went up in company with the latter on their return to the vicinity of Deir-el-Komr, and among them two young men from Deir-el-Komr, who belonged to a party of seven "braves," of whom five were killed in the massacre, and they two only escaped. As they went up the mountain in advance of the French troops, they came upon a Druse just below the village of Ainanoob, seized him and shot him. They found another Druse in the village, drying grapes on a house roof, and, seizing him, drove him before them beyond the village, and killed him

The Case of Byerly.—The jury in the case of William Byerly, charged with fraud in the First Congressional district, came into court Tuesday, and rendered a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was re-

It is scarcely possible to conceive of a more dangerous and demoralizing specimen of political fraud than that of which the defendant in this case has been found guilty. The mortality is great and increasing. They have neither medical help nor the consolations of their religion, and the terrors of a renewed massacre are constantly in their minds. If sickness or death continue to increase there will soon be few Christians here to trouble the government or any one else. I shall regard any attempt to force the Damascenes to return as most tyrannical and cruel. If the villagers can be re-established in their houses and cultivation of their land, it is well; but the condition of the Damascenes is wholly different. Yet there is at present perfect security. How long it may last I cannot tell.

Colored Families Emigrating to Philadelphia. The Evening Bulletin has heard of some seventy-five or eighty free colored families who have come to this city from Charleston, South Caclina, within a few weeks. The reason given for this unusual emigration is the fact of the passage of a law in South Carolina, which requires all free collect oersons to wear a distinctive badge. HAVE NOW READY A TEXT BOOK OF CHURCH HISTORY FOR STUDENTS. Translated from the German of John Henry Kurtz, D. Vol. II., to the Present Time, now preparing. The present addition of the "Text Book of Church History," is the content of the "Text Book of Church History," tory," is, to some extent, a reprint of the Edinburgh Translation. But as that translation, avowedly, tampered with the original work, care has been taken, in this edition, to make the rendering conform strictly to the author's sense.

It is proper to add that whilst the Edinburgh translation was made from the third edition of the original work, the edition now offered to the public contains all the improvements of the fourth edition of the original, which was published within the last three months.

The merits of this work, which the reader will please notice, is the author's Text-Book, of Church History, are so obvious, that they need not be pointed out in detail. It combines lucid conciseness with full comprehensiveness to a rare degree. And although it cannot, of course, supply the please of some legger morks on the subject. supply the place of some larger works on the subject, already issued, it will tend to satisfy a great want in this department of literature.
