"The rebel flag on Fort Sumter was shot away on Thursday, and again on Friday, and no reply was made to our bombardment, which was constantly kept up. The whole of the southwest side of Sumter was demolished, and presented nothing but a heap of ruins. No guns were being fired from the fort.
At 9 o'clock on Friday morning breaches were observed in Sumter by means of a spyglass by the ships off Charleston bar. The siege was then progressing on our part. For the last seven days our casualties had averaged only about four per day." The dispatches from rebel sources are as follows.

"OHARLESTON, Aug. 20.—The fire of the enemy's land batteries has been kept up on Fort Sumter, and more guns disabled. There was one casualty. There was also a heavy fire on battery Wagner from the fleet and land; also on battery Gregg. Gen. Gilmore's demand for the surrender of Fort Sumter and Morris Island, with the threat to shell Charleston in four hours from the delivery of the paper at Wagner, was signed and returned at seven o'clock this morning. Beauregard, in his reply, charges inhumanity upon the United States, and a violation of the laws of war; and affirms that if the offence be repeated he will employ stringent measures of retaliation. Up to this time the threat to shell the city has not been executed.

CHARLESTON, Aug. 23.—On Saturday six hundred and four shots were fired at Fort Sumter, of which four hundred and nineteen struck inside and outside. The east wall is much scarred and battered in, and the parapet undermined. The northwest wall archcs, too, have fallen in. The guns were dismounted, and one private killed. On Sabbath the land batteries opened from south and north and the monitors from east and west, coming close up. The fire was very damaging. The east wall was cracked and wrecked, and the shot swept through the fort. The fort is now a ruin. Col. Rhett is ordered, with his brave garrison to hold this out post, even as a forlorn hope, until relieved or taken. On Sabbath the brave Col. Gaillard lost his life. It is said to-day that there are 23 vessels inside, including the Iron-sides and monitors, &c., and 13 outside the bar. Gen. Gilmore sent a communication at 11 o'clock on Sabbath, giving notice that at 11 o'clock to-morrow he would open fire on Charleston. In the meantime the non-combatant can go out of the city.

Mr. Fulton, of the Baltimore American sends the following, dated Aug. 24th, Monday:

On Saturday at midnight, Admiral Dahlgren, with five monitors, advanced in the darkness on Fort Sumter, opening fire at 3 o'clock, and keeping it up until 6 o'clock. A dense fog then arose, which shut out the fort from view. The fort, during the five hours' fire upon it, was struck over a hundred times, the balls tearing through the sea wall, and doubling the number of port-holes. The whole parapet was carried away. No signals were given until the whole fleet opened, and the fire was one of the most terrific descripton. Beauregard replied by asking for a truce of forty hours. General Gilmore refused to give any more time or accept any other terms than an unconditional surrender. At 12 o'clock last night the shelling of the city with "Greek fire" was resumed.

of the U. S. forces in New York City, and Governor Seymour, has been published, which, if possible, betrays more clearly than ever the unfriendly spirit of the latter towards the policy of the Administration in putting down the rebellion. Gen. Dix wrote to Gov. Seymour as early as July 30th, inquiring whether he could rely on the State authorities for the maintenance of order, during the approaching draft in the city. It was not desired to withdraw any of the force from the Army of the Potomac for this purpose. Seymour replied Aug. 3d, stating that he was in communication with the President, and hoped an armed enforcement of the draft would be avoided. On the 8th, Gen. Dix again writes to know whether the Governor will furnish an adequate force. On the 15th, Governor Seymour answers, that he has been disappointed in his application to the President and fails to give a direct answer to Gen. Dix's inquiry. Meanwhile, the loyal General had, the day previous, written to the Secretary of War for an armed force and his call was being promptly responded to. Hence the presence of U.S. troops in the city and their withdrawal from the front were due to the tardiness and political antipathy of the Governor to the Administration.

Pursuit of Quantrell; Retaliation.-No prisoners have been taken by the pursuers of the outlaws who perpetrated the Sepoy-like massacre at Lawrence, Kansas. About 80 have been killed, and pursuit has been so rapid that much of the plunder taken has been dropped by the gang on the road. The astounding information was also conveyed By military order the district in which Quantrell's gang was organized and which is intensely disloyal, is to be vacated of its inhabitants. It embraces three counties, and part of a fourth, reaching from the Missouri to the Osage river, on the western border. Certain districts are exempt. Those who can prove their loyalty in the proscribed district may remove to any military station in the district or to certain parts of Kansas. All others must leave within fifteen days. All hay and grain in the district within reach of the military station will be removed thither, the remainder will be burnt. Gen. We have lowered the assaults of Seward, Greeley, and Lovejoy. Great will be our mortification and sorrow if Beecher and Cheever should slip in by the postern."

The Inquirer of the same date discusses the question of the exchange of prisoners and says:

Under these circumstances, what hope is there of the arrangement of the carted upon a footing of equality? Will Lincoln's Government renounce that audacious pretension to treat us as criminals? Or will it, after deliberately enlisting our runaway negroes into its military service, consent to give them up to be dealt with by our State laws as insurgents? We know very well what these questions all tend to. We have long perceived that the time is at hand when no more prisoners will be takep. Our people and our troops are entitled, at the hands of the Government, to such protection as a Government can afford them. Our more prisoners will be takep. A Correspondent of the Siccle Paris, the government organ of France writes from Tunis, Algiers, as follows:

"Our College philosophers al hoine may, and probably do accomplish a great deal for the causeof science, but the Americans are the people to turn these discoveris to practical account. Many of the modern inventions in use here are American, and one American achemist, Dr. J. C. Ayer of Lowill, supples much of the medicine consumed in this country. His Clerry Fectoral, Pills, Sarsaparilla and Ague Cure constitute the staph remedies here, because they are of easy application, sure in their results, and have the confidence of the people. While the science of Medicine is carried to a higher perfection in our own country France; than any other, it strikes is Frenchman as a little singular that an American Physician should furnish the medical skill and remedies for bur Principal Province. ## THE RICHARDSON PREMIUM BURIAL CASKETS.

Draped inside throughout with Cashmere, Satin, or other material, and constructed substantially air-tight by the novel invention of patent Circular Ends, without any joints, making it impossible for oxygen to penetrate from the outside, thus rendering them more durable, and better adapted to the purposes for which they are needed.

They are tastefully manufactured from grained Rosewood, Mahogany, Black Walnut; and other materials that render them less expensive and place them within the means of persons of moderate circumstances, and all finished according to the wishes and taste of those giving the orders.

While the Casket retains all the requisites of an appropriate receptacle for the dead, its construction and appearance is such, as entirely to do away with all disagreeable and unpleasant sensations. There is nothing in the arrangement or shape of the Casket, that is in the arrangement or shape of the Casket, that is in the remotest degree repulsive, but, quite the contrary, it is beautiful. And surely that which tends in any degree to soften the poignancy of grief in the hour of bereavement, must commend itself to the favorable consideration of every afflicted heart, and sympathizing friend.

The Caskets when required, are made air-tight, emitting no offensive odor, and hence are specially valuable in the removal of deceased bodies from any of the battle fields, and other distant points to remote localities for interment, and are not liable to the objections frequently made by Railroad Companies when offered for transportation with the usual prepa

We guarantee, in our hands, the removal of the dead with perfect safety, no matter how long buried, and if recently interred, in a good state of preservation, and without the least unpleasant odor, or we will make no charge for the Casket. The Caskets are furnished at one-half the cost of the so-called metallic coffin.

N.B.—We expect to visit the different battle fields

The undersigned also offers to the public in general, his Patent Corpse Preserver, a New Invention for the preservation of the bodies of deceased persons by cold air alone, and without the application of ice, which is so repugnant to the feelings. By the use of this Preserver, the funeral may be deferred for weeks, if necessary, to await the arrival of absent friends, as by the cold air process, the corpse will keep much longer than in the ordinary way of pressing the body down with from fifty to a hundred pounds of ice, and saturating it with water.
