1863. American Presbyterian and Genesee Evangelist. 171 PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS. Monday, two Pennsylvania regiments, the 4th and Latest,—Tuesday. On the 18th, Gen. Meade's Head Quarters, were at Centreville. His retrograde movement is not considered a disaster, but rather a shrewd divice to draw the enemy away from his base. A successful advance of our army in East Tennessee towards Abington, Va., is reported by the rebels. A dis-patch to Rosecrans, dated Rogersville, Ala., Oct. 10th, from Gen. Crook, reports the utter rout of Wheeler's Cavalry in three encounters, with a prob-able loss of 2,000, including 4 guns and 1,000 stand of arms. Cold weather is rapidly setting in, and the de-mands for warm clothing, and hospital stores of all descriptions are being constantly made upon us. These demands must be met: and that promptly and liberally. Let us not fail to be worthy of the opportunity to do good. While such-sacrifices are ng made by our brave heroes, in behalf of all that is dear to us, let us see to it that their hearts are cheered, and their faith in the justice of the cause confirmed, by our contributions and sympathies. Our stock of stores is very low, in consequence of the heavy demands upon us since the recent battle of Chickamauga. Let us be supplied, and largely

Daniel March, Pastor of Clinton Street Church, ared 20 years. Half of the twenty years which measured the life of this afflicted daughter were years of suffering. Cut off from the pursuits and diversions which ordinarily engage the attention and afford the enjoyment of the young, she neverthelees found much in life to enjoy. God gave her many friends, whose thoughtful kindness and tender sympathy did much to com-fort and strengthen her heart through all of her ten year's conflict with pain and disease. She thankfully accepted the chastisement of suffering as the appointed and growing means of leading her to the cholee of a better portion than health and life can give. And thus she learned to count her great afflic-tion her greatest lossing. Her last days were full of peace and joy; her last conversation was of heaven, and the last prayer heard from her lips was: "Come, Lord Jeans; come quickly."
