eloquent words found prompt response in the applause of the audience.

He spoke his approval of the policy suggested by the prudential committee in making the necessary appropriations at the onset, and urged that the Lord's treasury should receive the first fruits, trusting that the minor necessaries of his people will be provided for. He spoke of the condition of the country, as affecting the interests of the board, and his patriotic utterances brought frequent applause from his hearers.

He was interrupted by the announcement that a donation of $10 was just received from a soldier at the front, and turned the incident to good effect in praising the spirit of the poor to contribute their mite to the treasury of the Lord. He expressed his confidence in the idea that before the next meeting of the board the christian church would rejoice to give a thank offering for a restored and regenerated country. He gave a glowing picture of the present state of military operations, and every allusion to the heroes who are doing the work was received with applause. He believed that the end was near, and that a restored country would furnish the meansfor still more extended missionary operations. He closed with an allusion to the suggestion which had been made of holding a future meeting of the board in San Francisco, and in the name of the people of California, among whom he soon expects to be numbered, he extends an invitation to the board to go there, and promised a warm welcome and liberal reward.

The session was closed by singing the Doxology. Adjourned to 8 1-4 A. M., to-morrow.

Missionaries' Meeting in Washburn Hall.

Over fifty returned foreign missionaries, including their wives and children and the widows of msssionaries met in Washburn Hall this morning at eight o'clock. Rev. Mr. Bingham, formerly of the Sandwich Islands presided, and speeches of about three minutes each were made by Rev. Messrs Riggs from the Dacotah Indians, Webb of India, Ireland of South Africa, Doolittle of China and White of Western Asia. They referred to the sorrows and the joys of missionary life, and appealed to their hearers for their prayers in behalf of the great work in the countries where they had labored—which they represented as prospering largely.

The mothers' meeting in Washburn Hall, at 4 P. M., was one of the most interesting gatherings connected with the meeting of the board. It was composed of mothers and pastors' wives, and the exercises were entirely in the hands of the ladies. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity, many being obliged to go away for want of room. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Charles Washburn of this city and Mrs. Bowker of East Boston led the assembly in prayer, after which Mrs. Warren of Boston made a statement of the work and success of the Union Maternal Association of Boston. This Association is much prized by those who are aware of its influence, and similar organizations are urged in every church. The association, besides its central meeting snperintends ten branch mission in the city among the poor, where meetings are held weekly, to which mothers and others desiring counsel and advice are welcome. They are conducted by ladies of education and ability, and are esteemed among the most useful agencies in the hands of the church.

Interesting remarks were made by Mrs. Dr. Anderson of Boston, and Mrs. Davis of Westfield, and a lady from Montreal gave an interesting report of the Maternal association in that city. Prayer was offered by Mrs. I. P. Warren and Mrs Albert Bowker of Boston, and others, and the meeting was much enjoyed and was considered to have been among the most useful and practical of the session.

A large meeting was held in Union church in the evening, at which Dr. Palmer of Albany presided, and with Rev. J. P. Gulliver of Norwich, and Rev. Mr. Webb, from the Madura mission, addressed the people.

FOURTH DAY.

The closing exercises of the meeting of the Board took place at 8½ o'clock in the presence of a very large audience. The extremely early hour detained many of our citizens who desired to attend, but a large proportion of the strangers from abroad were present. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Hawes of New Haven, who in appropriate and earnest words rendered thanks for the past prosperity and present prospects of the board—after which the audience joined in singing to "Coronation." The effect was grand. The intense spmpathy and feeling, incident to the affecting farewells so soon to be said which prevaded the assembly, gave a thrill and tone to the exercise such as is rarely experienced.

"All hail the power of Jesus name."

Rev. Mr. Treat announced that, since yesterday, a lady from Hartford had made a donation of $1000, a gentleman from Rochester $1000, and through Rev. Dr. Wood a friend of the cause $1000, toward $600,000 to be raised during the year. This announcement was received with applause.

Rev. Mr. Doane, from the Micronesian mission, spoke of the pressure which is brought to bear upon returned mfssionaries to induce them to retire from active labor and leave the completion of their work to others, and of the desire that so many of them have to join in the struggle for the defense of the flag, as being almost too strong to resist. He said that notwithstanding these inducements to remain at home, the attractions of the mission field were stronger. The little church, the inquiring natives, the memories of the past and the glorious hopes of the future call loudly for us to come back, and the gravas of the dear ones we have left in heathen lands call to us to return and labor for the cause in which they have surrendered their lives. He asked the encouragement and kind prayers of the churches of America for their prosperity and success in the arduous and self-denying work.

Rev. Mr. Jessup of Syria said that he felt differently; that he had no desire to stay, no inducements to call him to leave his work. The native churches and brethren call him to return, and he is glad to go. He has given himself to Syria, and he hopes to live and die there. He spoke of the prosperous condition of his mission, and the opening which is just presenting itself for missionary labor all through the east. He spoke of the many pleasures of his work, the eager minds waiting for truth, and the children learning to sing the hymns of Jesus, and asked the prayers of Christians that his mission might be sustained and prospered. He gave a sample of the songs of the Syrian children; the hymn, "Just as I am, without one plea," set to the Turkish national air, which is universally known, and now sung by thousands of children to the words "O! Lamb of God, I come." He closed with an affecting allusion to his aged father, formerly vice president of the Board, whose declining years forbid his ever mingling in like scenes on earth, which left hardly a dry eye in the assembly.

Rev. Dr. Hopkins, president of the Board, expressed their gratitude to the people of Worcester for the hospitality and kindness which had so generously been tendered during the meeting. He alluded to the cause in which the Board was engaged, and considered that whatever sacrifices had been made, had been given to Christ for the advancement of his cause.

Rev. Dr. Brainerd of Philadelphia led the assembly in prayer, asking that God might reward the people of Worcester for their kindness in sending a speedy revival of religion to bless and strengthen the churches of the city.

Rev. Dr. Sweester of Worcester spoke in behalf of the churches of Worcester, thanking the Board for the act of Christian kindness which had just been manifested. He spoke of the anxiety which had pervaded the churches in anticipation of the meeting, and hoped that the occasion might result in an increase of faith and devotion to the cause of Christ, and that the churches might find that they and not the board were debtors for good gained from the meeting of the Board. He referred to the former meetings of the Board in the city, in 1811, when one parlor was sufficient for their business, and one congregation in the South church was all the outward display of strength the Board could boast. He contrasted that occasion with the present, when no building in any city could receive the crowd. At its first meeting the appropriation was $999.52, and the second meeting here in 1844 it was about $250,000, and now at this meeting it has increased to $600,000. He spoke of the eagerness with which the cause of the Board was watched by the missionaries in the field, asking only that they might be furnished with means to remain at their posts, and continue their labors for the salvation of the heathen.

He spoke of the great numbers who attended the meeting, and knew that no city could entertain the crowd without much solicitude and anxiety, but he urged that no efforts be made to repress the interest. He believed that the meetings were instrumental in doing great good, and were not considered a burden but a blessing. He paid a fitting tribute to the women of the church, saying that to them belonged much of the praise and credit for the success of the society. He spoke of the true uses of life, as being its devotion, and its surrender if necessary for the good of others, and that such a meeting as this was looked upon from all quarters of the world as a great source of good and blessing. The labor of entertainment was not worth a thought. He closed with the assurance of his belief that the good results left from the meeting of the Board would far surpass all that they could carry away. The audience joined in singing, "Blessed be the tie that binds."

Rev. Dr. Walter Clarke, of Buffalo, from the committee on the Turkish mission, to whom was recommitted the resolutions concerning the unwarrantable action of the Turkish government in seizing Protestant converts, closing Bible houses, and otherwise unwarrantably interfering with the work of missions in that country, reported the series with an additional resolution, to meet the views of those who last evening objected to them. The first three resolutions recite the facts of which the board complained, and their conclusions in view of the facts are embodied in the two last as follows:

PERSECUTION IN TURKEY.

4th.—"Resolved, that inasmuch as the just and wise policy of not interfering in the internal government of other nations and empires has always been observed by the government of the United States, the duty of our government towards our missions extends no further than the protectipn of our missionaries as American citizens, against all outrages on their persons, their property, or their just liberty of speech or worship, and having performed that duty efficiently and promptly by the agency of our diplomatic representative at Constantinople, neither the President nor Congress can be invoked to interfere otherwise than by a purely moral influence, for the protection of Turkish subjects converted from the faith of Mohamedanism to the Christian faith."

5th—"Resolved, that mindful of the noble position which in former days the government of Great Britain has held on the question of universal freedom for faith and worship, and remembering especially the distinguished part which Lord Stratford De Redcliffe, Her Majesty's then ambassador to the Porte, performed in preserving that charter of Turkish liberty, the 'Hatti Hamayoun,' this board look with confidence to the government of Great Britain, believing that Her Majesty's advisers in this behalf will not fail to estimate the magnitude of the many interests involved in the pending issue; bearing as it does upon the well being of the powerful Christian races residing within the empire; the liberties and the destinies of the growing Protestant communities; to say nothing of the millions of Moslems to whom inquiry, and conviction, and ultimate evangelization are inevitable as the course of thought, and the purpose of promise of the Almighty; the influence of the right decision of this question upon the progress of Christianity in coming time, and among many nations; calling to mind also the honorable part which the people of Great Britain have taken in every great movement of modern civilization; will, in accordance with the immemorial policy of the British government, and with its recognized position as the protector of the native Protestant population in the Turkish empire, interpose such remonstrances, and, if need be, such demands also, as shall secure to the persecuted subjects of the Turkish government, and to all who live or shall hereafter live under the Turkish rule, present and perspective, freedom from exile, or bonds, or molestation, or censure, on account of their religious faith, or any reasonable expression of it before others, so long as its exercise and expression involve no infringement of existing law."

The resolutions as amended were unanimously adopted.

Hon. John Aiken introduced a resolution that the report of the prudential committee be adopted and published as the annual report of the board, and published under the direction of the prudential committee.

The secretary, Dr. Worcester, read the minutes of the meeting of yesterday, which were approved, with the final approval of the completed minutes.

Rev. Mr. Bingham, formerly from the Sandwich Islands, read from the Commercial Advertiser the speech of the king of Sandwich Islands on the question of a new constitution, and especially that of universal suffrage.

The meeting was closed by prayer by Rev. Dr. Wilkes of Montreal, singing the Doxology, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," and the Benediction.

In conclusion, we wish to express our obligations to the gentlemanly reporter of the Worcester Spy for his courtesy, and to whose full and accurate reports of the meetings from day to day we are much indebted for assistance in making up our summary.

PRESBYTERY OF WILMINGTON.

DEAR BRO. MEARS:—At your request I send for the "American Presbyterian," the memoranda of what is deserving of notice in the action of The Presbytery of Wilmington, in its late stated meeting held at Milford, Del.

1. In view of the rapid increase of immigration to the State of Delaware, the Standing Committee on Home Missions was instructed to secure the opointment of a missionary to labor at points along the line of the Delaware Railroad.

2. The pastoral relation was dissolved between the Forest Church, of Middletown, and the Rev. Isaac Riley. Mr. Riley was also dismised to the Third Presbytery of Philadelphia, whithin whose bounds is the church at Pottsville, to which he has been called.

3. The Ministerial Relief Fund was commended to the churches and a standing committee appointed to secure a general response to the benevolent intentions of the Assembly.

4. Pastors were instructed to call the special attention of their sessions to the action of the General Assembly in relation to the more vital union of the Sabbath school with the church.

5. The stated clerk was ordered to place the following resolutions in the hands of the sessions.

Resolved, That the Presbytery expresses its approbation and gratification at the numerous instances in which our churches have come to the relief of their pastors in the pecuniary embarrassments forced upon them by the pressure of the times.

Resolved, That the Presbytery would urge upon those churches that have not made any increase in the amount of the support pledged their pastors at once to do so. The Presbytery feel that this would be but an act of justice and honor;—one indeed called for by the spirit of the pledge given that pastor at his call "to furnish him with all proper support and encouragement and to keep him from worldly cares and avocations;" while at the same time it is an absolute necessity to his usefulness.

One evening, during the meeting of Presbytery, was spent in prayer for the country, and a most interesting address was made by the Rev. William Aikman, giving details of his labors among the wounded, under the auspices of the Sanitary and Christian Commissions. J. GARLAND HAMNER,

Temporary Clerk.

FOREIGN MISSIONS, A PRACTICAL EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

The Bishops of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, have addressed a letter to the members of the Church of England, appealing to them for additional missionaries and funds, in order to enlarge the work of missions in India. The appeal, after giving an interesting account of the success of their own church missions, speaks thus of the labors of other sections of the Universal Church:

"If we turn to the labors of other Protestant bodies, whose self-denying zeal and successful work we heartily recognize, we find that the work of the Congregationalists [Am. Board, it should have been,] in South Travancore has received almost as large a blessing as our own in Tinnevelly, that Chota Nagpore is being gradually Christianized by the Lutherans of Prussia, and that the Karens of Burmah have been won to Christ, almost as a nation, by Dr. Judson and his American successors."

The Montreal Witness closes a notice of this letter with the following remark:—

"One grand result of missionary labor is to draw Christians of various denominations nearer to each other. There is probably more Christian union and affection on the foreign mission field than anywhere else, and the Indian Bishops manifest it when they 'heartily recognize' the labors of their brethren of other churches."

MASON & HAMLIN

CABINET ORGANS.

MASON & HAMLIN respectfully invite attention to the fact that their CABINET ORGANS are, by the written testimony of a MAJORITY OF THE MOST EMINENT ORGANISTS AND MUSICIANS IN AMERICA, as well as a number of distinguished artists of other countries, declared to be unequaled by any similar instruments—"THE BEST OF THEIR CLASS;" also, that they have been invariably awarded the first premiums at the numerous industrial fairs at which their instruments have been exhibited. They will be glad to send to any one desiring it an illustrated catalogue of styles and prices, with a large amount of this testimony.

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.

The high reputation of our CABINET ORGANS has frequently induced dealers to represent that other instruments are the same thing; that there is no essential difference between the Cabinet Organs and Organs with various names, made by other makers. This is not true. The excellences of our Cabinet Organs, which have given them their high reputation, are the result not merely of the superiority of their workmanship, but also in large measure of essential differences of construction, which, being patented, cannot be employed by other makers. These are essential to their better quality and volume of tone and unrivaled capacity of expression. When a dealer represents another instrument as the same thing as the Cabinet Organ, it is usually an attempt to sell an inferior instrument on which he can make a larger profit.

TELEGRAPHING BY SOUND, and all the duties appertaining to Telegraphing as a profession, is practically taught by an operator of eleven years' experience: students being allowed after some practice to work on the wires extending to various other offices in and out of the city. In this manner they are fitted for the regular duties common to telegraph lines with out another day's practice on any line, and are ready to sit down at the operating-table and earn a good salary.

Nowhere else in the world can such advantages be obtained. Call and read letters from our graduates, who are now scattered all over the country.
