FACTS AND FIGURES.

It is an old saying that "figures are hard acts." It is an old philosophy, too, that eaches the wisdom of judging by facts.

It is a fact that we are still in the midst of a rebellion that for nearly four years past he rebellion shall live, the sad record of pkg.

Miffering will continue to characterize our germantown—Christ ch. Ladies' Aid Soc, I describe the sad record of pkg. It is a fact that the people have said that he army and navy shall be sustained amid il their hazards and toils; and that all the achinery of government which has been aid under contribution to serve this end, hall be sustained also. It is a fact that the President and all the departments under his control; that Congress, with all its legislative wisdom; and Muncy the people in the majesty of numbers, and boxes. with the eloquence of unity, have resolved stand fast by our soldiers and sailors, and sustain them while they sustain the laws. It is a fact that next to the government the people have been represented most earnestly and faithfully in the principles and work of the United States Sanitary

It is a fact that the Sanitary Commission has distributed supplies to the soldiers and sailors of our forces, valued at $8,406,272; and this estimate is much lower than the goods would have cost, if they had been

It is a fact that the expense of distribu-ting over $2,250,000 worth of supplies, as reported by the Western Department one year ago, was $35,000, or one and one-half per cent., and that all statements to the contrary

It is a fact that previous to July 1st. 1864. the cost of distribution in all the departments was but three and seventy six one hundreths per centum (3.76) of the value of the supplies; and that the large amount of anti-scorbutics and other stores forwarded to the Army of the Potomac, which necessi tated the chartering of boats at the present high prices, has only increased the total cost of distribution to four and eighty-eight one hundreths per centum.

It is a fact that none of our agents are simple carriers of supplies, but relief agents relief agents in the largest sense of the term and that including them in the account of "cost of distribution," we include a vast work of beneficent charity in the (4.88) cost of distribution.

It is a fact that at a single centre of Spe cial Relief, in Washington, 121,047 nights' lodgings have been given to our soldiers, in white sweet beds; and that 359,816 substan-tial meals have been given at tables, besides which many thousand more meals have been given to steamboat loads, and car loads wounded, at all hours of the day and night. It is a fact that there are twentywo of these Special Relief Stations in the North and West, and that the meals and helter furnished to our men, in transitu from the army, may be counted by millions

It is a fact that the people have contrib-uted with a freedom and generosity un-equalled in any other age or nation of the orld, to the Sanitary Commission, as the est and cheapest instrumentality within their reach for supplementing the appliances of the best of governments. It is a fact that the more the people examine the work of the Commission, the more they are satisfied with its Christian principles, its lofty purposes, and its econo-

From the classification and arrangement these general facts and figures, it is evient that the work that has been done itherto is very large; that the good governnent, the brave army, and the loyal people, peing all united in the one grand purpose of aving the country, as they look back upor the past,-count the demands of the pre--and estimate the wants of the future. have agreed that they must each rely upon he other, for the conduct of the future, as hey have done in the past, and that the same class of results will follow, from the same kind of earnest labor.

The work is sure to go on. The tendency is more and more to unity; the people are becoming one in spirit and purpose; fac ions and factious oppositions, are being used into a current that flows toward a common centre; and the grand record is being made, of a nation united in its beneactions to the army, as it is in its purpose to cheer that army in its struggle for Union and liberty.

A New Editor.—Our city cotemporary, the Presbyterian Standard, announces the engagement of Rev. Alfred Taylor, of Bristol, Pa., action, the word of God may be preached, have as an Associate Editor. The Presbyterian, noticing the announcement, says:--" By this arrangement we lose one of our most sprightly and piquant contributors, and part with him with regret. We hope that he will find more intimate connection with journalism pleasant, while he increases his own usefulness by enlarging the field of his labors."

A MERITED COMPLIMENT.--The Mayor and Councils of Philadelphia have unanimously passed a resolution of thanks to Professor E. D. Saunders, D. D., of The is to be done should be done quickly.

And we must not forget that each day is Courtland Saunders Institute, "For the bringing into Annapolis many of our brothers great good he has done in saving by hi

On the morning of the 17th inst, in the 52d year of his age, Shuman Kimberly, an elder in the Presbyterian church of Clarence, N. Y., quietly slept in Jesus. He had long professed Christ, and was an active and faithful member of the church. He suffered much, but patiently, during his last days on earth. His hope in Christ was firm and strong.

The commencement of a winter's work of great interest is upon us. Orders for about two hundred chapel tents, flies, houses, &c., in which, during the days of the soldier's inbeen received, and are in the various stages of filling. Large buildings are in course of erection in the army operating against Richmond; and houses from Cincinnati have been sent to the Army of the Cumberland. The work of grace which was inaugurated during last winter in the chapels in Virginia bids fair to com-mence again as soon as the preparations for comfortable services are completed At such a time as this, the Commission feels that the churches of the country can have no better way open to them for extending mis sionary operations than by erecting houses of God in the wilderness that our brave boys who have gone out from their homes may have the gospel gospel preached to them. Already some churches have moved in the matter: but what and friends who have passed through sufferings numberless in prison, and who now are neednumberless in prison, and who now are needing all manner of comforts. We must, if they are unable to get farther than the hospitals, carry them TO the hospitals, and make the days of the closing year happier to them than any have been before them.

Gentlemen :- Having used your Pain Killer on our he es, and finding it a very good remedy for sores, eprains or lameness, we can recommend it to the pub-lic Yours very respectfully,

RICE & HAYWARD, Providence, R. I. Gentlemen:-Having used your "Pain Killer" myself, and seen it used by others a great many times, in cases of colic in horses, with the best success I take great pleasure in recommending it as the best medicine for the colic that I have ever used or seen used. For a dose I have generally given about two-thirds of the quantity there is in a thirty-five cent bottle, in a pint of warm milk and molasses. Yours respectfully.
