Well Done, Iowa.—Our church in to light the horrible truth that nearly half Winterset, Iowa, has recently donated to its Pastor, Rev. A. M. Heizer, who. to its Pastor, Rev. A. M. Heizer, who, by the way, has been with them less When anxious fathers and fond mothers. than six months, the generous amount of $216 in cash, and other valuable gifts, swelling the total to $350. The West-field needs only fair sultivation and ern field needs only fair cultivation, and, bring them to disgraceful and untimely ends, with the blessing of the Holy Spirit, it will soon take care of itself.

DEATH AT THE COMMUNION TABLE. While at the communion service in Orange. New Jersey, Mrs. Day, an aged and devoted member of the church, fell under a stroke of paralysis, and died before she could be removed. The scene was unspeakably solemn. For the living, the thirty-seven have already been received to communion was deferred one week. The departed entered upon hers, immediate and eternal.

LITTLE MILL CREEK, OHIO .- Rev. O. H. Newton reports to the Herald a re-

Christian Herald, says: _ "Special tokens of the Divine favor have been most graciously granted to the First the church grew and flourished." Presbyterian church. It has been a most deeply solemn, still, quiet, and blessed work. The church has been much quickened, and backsliders reclaimed. Seventeen have united with us on profession of their faith in Christ. Ten or twelve more are indulging hope, and will twelve more are indulging hope, and will unite with us in due time. The work has been very largely in the Sabbathschool, among the youth from ten to twenty years of age. Several heads of families have been reached."

REVIVALS IN THE NORTHWEST .- A revival of much interest is reported in Dr. Mattoon's church in Monroe, Michigan; another at Lyons, Iowa, where it is said there have been one hundred conversions, and the church is greatly strengthened; a gentle refreshing at Kewanee, Illinois, resulting thus far in about twenty conversions. The Rockford Female Seminary has been lately enjoying one of the most precious of the many works of grace with which that favored institution has been blessed.

At the close of the term, a few days ago, there were only about twenty-five of the whole number of pupils (about three high commendations which it has received, bundred in all) who were not indulging come from the organs of all the principal hope of pardoned sin. We hear also of interesting revivals at Cottage Grove, Danville, and Shelbyville, Illinois.

PRESBYTERY OF SAGINAW.—This Presbytery is, in view of its location, an important one, and its future is hopeful. both on account of the numbers and character of the population which must eventually come within range of its influence, and because of the energetic character of its present material. It has recently held its annual meeting at Flushing, below Flint City, on Flint River. The Home Missionary subject was discussed with special reference to the Presbytery's own field. At present, almost all its churches are dependent upon Home Missionary aid, and it has before it many points which ought to be immediately occupied. Some of them are evidently destined to be centres of influence. The Presbytery is awake to its responsibility, and does not mean that other parts the church shall slumber over it. For Commissioners to the Assembly, Rev. H. H. Northrop and Elder Robert Ure were elected principals, and Rev. James A. Griffes and Elder Levi Walker, alternates.

Iowa.—Our correspondent below, a veteran and voluntary laborer, who for sixteen years has gone up and down the State of Iowa, with almost no pecuniary remuneration, striving to save feeble churches which he knows not how to see dying out, sends the following items:-

"I have just returned from a short campaign of five Sabbaths with the Marengo Church, in Iowa County, left destitute by the absence and illness of their minister, Rev. L. B. Rogers, whom the people have very unanimously invited to return, if his health will permit. Besides visiting all the members, as far as practicable. at their homes, and holding a season of communion with the church, at which four new members were recognized, one by profession, I also introduced Mr. are, its own best advertisement. Wilberforce K. Boggs, a licentiate, to supply the pulpit for the present. I am now ready for another campaign with our vacant church at Mount Vernon, in Linn County."

Speaking of the death of Rev. C. I. Slack, pastor of our church in Newton, noticed in our last week's issue, the writer says:--]

"The stroke is severe to us all. Our Synod met there last autumn, and laid the corner stone of their Westminster Presbyterian Church, with their young pastor, now so soon carried to the grave. before the structure is completed! It is so hard work to get good young ministers, a thousand miles from the great East, that we weep at this sudden exit of one, of whom we had high hopes. His heart-stricken widow I met in the cars, leaving with his remains for the home of a brother. But he sleeps in IOWAN. Jesus.

JUVENILE DRUNKENNESS.—No less than eleven boys were turned out of one of the district schools of this city, last week, for being drunk in school, and facts have brought sorrow and mourning to their parents, and a blight upon our city and nation.—Cleveland

REVIVALS.—Our Presbyterian exchanges of last week mention a number of revivals now in progress. Among the churches refreshed are Oakfield, Minn., where the new converts are mostly Bible Class scholars; wo Ridges, near Steubenville, Ohio, where four have united with the church, and "deeper feeling of earnest inquiry and prayer now prevails, than ever before in the history of the congregation;" Valparaiso, Ind., where fifteen have made public profession, H. Newton reports to the Herald a revival in this place, in connection with a protracted meeting. "The meetings," he says, "were largely attended and deeply solemn. There were over thirty inquirers, the most of whom we hope have been already converted. Last Sabbath was our communion season. Nineteen have united with the church—eighteen on the profession of their faith and one by letter. The church has been greatly blessed and encouraged, for which we are all, I trust, grateful to God."

Where fifteen have made public profession, eight are now applicants before the session, and "the work still goes on hopefully, and inquirers multiply;" Livonia, Ind.; Sardinia, Ind., where forty one recent additions by profession have doubled the number in the church; Danville, N. J.; Washington, Ind.; Newton, N. J., and Oskaloosa, Iowa. We have before spoken of the revival in Barbellen as its fruits thus far, fifty-three persons have been received by profession into the church. The last number of the Home and Foreign Record of the O. S. Presbyterian Church says:—"An unusual number of reports lately works of grace more or less extensive. GREEN CASTLE, IND.—A correspondent, writing from this place to the cheering tidings. Our fathers have told us

PRESBYTERIAN, UNION IN GREAT BRITAIN DESIRED.—The cry for this continues una bated. The Weekly Review of Feb. 11th mingling more with each other than they seem to do. If they are one in doctrine, and one in Church policy, we can see no reason at all that they should not draw closer together in the bonds of unity, and, in connection with their brethren of Scotland and Ireland, to form one grand 'British Presbyterian Church.' If it is the duty of some portions of the Presbyterian Church to unity it is of the Presbyterian Church to universities surely the duty of all other branches of the world. Is not this idea worth aiming at? If is, most assuredly. And we fondly hope that this grand consummation shall never be lost sight of. And may the Lord hasten it in his own time.

HOURS AT HOME is designed to stand among our monthly magazines as the representative of the Religious element of American literature. Besides articles on purely religious subjects, it will contain Reviews of Books; Biographical and Historical Sketches; Poetry; Notes of Travel; Moral Tales; Papers on Popular Science, and Essays upon Miscellaneous Topics. Discarding the frivolous, irreligious, and corrupting, it will furnish a pure, healthful, and instructive literature; it will be animated, also, by a thoroughly Catholic spirit, so that it may belong to the entire American Church. In brief, Hours at Home will aim to be what its name indicates—a Family Magazine, unexceptionable in all its teachings, elevated in tone, and useful; at the same time it will strive to render uself an invaluable aid to the Sunday-School Teacher, and a welcome visitor to the study of every Paistor.

Numerous eminent clergumen and laymen of all denominations, distinguished as populariwriters, have been engaged as contributors to Hours at Home, whose names will be a sufficient pledge of the high standard of literary oxcellence which will characterize it.

From the Episcopal Press.

From the Episcopal Recorder: Unique as to design, logical as to arrangement, suggestive as to treatment, select as to matter, evangelical and catholic as to theology, accurate as to scholarship, interesting as to style, it is the very beau ideal of a clergyman's commentary, and we predict for it the most extensive circulation. It possesses every feature to render it indispensable to the earnest minister.

Instead of a confused complication of remarks, we have a beautiful arrangement of everything petaining to the portion of Scripture under consideration, so that the student, the preacher, the polemic, the casuist every man in his own order—may go at once to his every man in the sum of finding there overything relating thereto.

The New York Onristian Advocate and Journal:

From the Methodist Press.

As a contribution to the richest and most abounding literature, we place it among the best—no student of the sacred page will fail to find great food for thought in its prolific columns. Its piety is simple and fervent; its orthodoxy high and unquestioned; its learning profuse and accurate: its ideas novel and lotty. No work so thorough and original has been lately laid before American readers. From the Presbyterian Press. The American Theological Review for January, 1865: The American Theological Review for January, 1865:

We welcome this commertary as upon the whole the best single exposition that can be found, comprising all that is essential to a thorough popular and useful work. It treats the bible as an inspired book; yet it is also critical meeting and not giving the slip to difficult questions. For textual criticism it affords ample means. Its exegesis is concise and pertinent. The doctrinal and homiletical parts are handled effectively. It is not icctarian, but adopted for use in all denominations. Those who may, here and there, differ from it, will no to complain that it is wanting in either candor or learning. This edition is not only much superior to the Edinburg, but it also surpasses the German.

In plan and in execution this Commentary exceeds any that have ever appeared. More than a hundred years ago a work on a similar plan was executed by a learned German, named Starke, but this of Lange's exceeds it in genius and geniality, besides having far richer stores of material from which to draw. It may be reparded as a lucidly composed and arranged Cyclopedia of exceptical doctrinal, and homiletical theology. A thorough acquaintance with it might will be

We can only call attention at present to this magnificent Commentary. This volume on Matthew is admirably done, an immeasurable advance on any commentary which has preceded it. It will give a new impulse to Biblical study, and be an invaluable help to all lovers of the Bible.

The National Baptist says: An invaluable addition to our Theological literature.

From the Congregational Press.

The New York Independent says: There is on every page evidence of the fullest reading and exactest thought. Every clergyman and teacher and student of the work will seek its pages, and the book should be on every Christian's shelf. The Lutheran and Dutch Reformed Press.

The Lutheran Observer says:

This is the greatest literary enterprise of the kind undertaken in the present century. Necessity demanded that the fruits from these immense labors should be gathered and condensed in some practical form. A new comprehensive commentary combining scientific accuracy with a ofular clearness, a work that should bring to the minister the choice results of the half century sinvestigations, was demanded. The volume on Matthew, the initial specimen volume, performs even more than the foregoing outling promises.

We are struck with the fulness of the work; every inquiry is answered; on every point on which information is wanted, we are met; and over and above the questions with which we come there floods in a wealth of light that fairly inundates the subject.

The New York Christian Intelligencer says: All the latest trustworthy discoveries in the science of interpretation are judiciously emplyed by the authors of the Commentary. Yet there is neither prodictivity no diffuseness in the treatment of any portion of the sacred text. The immense resources of German scholarship have been freely used, but in the truly evangelical way. The theories and speculation of German rationalism find no place here.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF JOHN HUSS;

THE BOHEMIAN REFORMATION OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY.

By the Rev. E. H. Gillett, D. D. BOSTON: GOULD & LINCOLN.

John Huss has never before been fairly represented to the English reader, if indeed to any other. We see him here with his noble compeers, buttling fearlessly for truth, and laying foundations and building superstructures... that no fires of persecution could consume. A lost leaf in history is found in this work.—Congregational Quarterly.
