

MADISON TO CRAWFORDSVILLE. THE OHIO.

For the first time, on a steamboat descending the Ohio River, (from Madison, Indiana, to Louisville, Kentucky,) I now was ready to accord to it its title of La Belle Riviere, which I had before thought it hardly deserved.

LOUISVILLE.

Louisville stands on a plain left by the retreating hills on the Kentucky shore of the Ohio. Without stopping to describe it, I may say, that it is a finely situated and excellently built city, of 70,000 inhabitants.

There is not within it one church of our own body. There should be, and that immediately. No better thing could be done for this city, than that which a noble layman of Philadelphia did for the North Broad Street Church.

THE KENTUCKY SYNOD

Here was in session, stormy and long, the Old School Synod of Kentucky. And here met in dire conflict "Dr. Bob," as Robert J. Breckinridge is irreverently styled, and Dr. Samuel Wilson, the champions of the Union and rebel wings of the Synod.

"That this Synod adjudges that the action of the majority of the Louisville Presbytery, by endorsing and adopting a paper styled 'Declaration and Testimony,' assumed such a state of open rebellion against the church, and open contempt and defiance of her scriptural authority, and contempt of her faith, order, and acts, as to render each and every one of them unqualified, unfit, and incompetent to sit and act as a member of this or any other court of the Presbyterian Church."

The debate was fierce, and Dr. Wilson's speech upon the resolution occupied seven hours, (which, I am happy to say, I did not hear, my time being better employed.) After such a broadside, the resolution could not float, and Dr. Breckinridge was severely defeated.

NEW ALBANY.

New Albany, on the Indiana shore, four miles below Louisville, has a different atmosphere. Dr. John G. Atterbury is the active, earnest, systematic pastor of a capital church, of our Synod of Indiana; and Mr. Hutchinson, in the Third Church, is a worthy fellow-laborer.

SOUTHERN INDIANA.

Leaving New Albany and the Ohio River to go northward, you pass through a long range of country where hills are as plenty as they are scarce in prairie-land. The whole region is occupied by a multiplicity of steep hills and hillocks, from twenty to two hundred feet in height, with narrow intervals. With few exceptions, this is the character of the country for a hundred and fifty miles. Having previously journeyed only through the level woodlands and prairies of central and northern Indiana, this fact took me by surprise. Of course the country is poor and the inhabitants are sparse. The rude log huts and shabby villages offer little temptation to the eye fresh from the rich plains and fields of central Illinois.

CRAWFORDSVILLE.

As you near Crawfordsville, a hundred and seventy miles north of the Ohio, these rugged hills soften into beautiful land waves, and you have as comely a region as heart can desire. They are preparing to subside into the prairie upon which, if you go twenty miles further, you will emerge at Lafayette. In this pleasant little town we find our Synod of Wabash in session, and also the Old School Synod of Northern Indiana, and (as, later, again in Cincinnati) the two Synods were in fraternal and harmonious interchange of courtesies, meeting for united prayer, and together celebrating the dying love of Christ.

WABASH COLLEGE.

A point of great interest at Crawfordsville, is Wabash College. Founded in prayer, it struggled through an infancy of poverty when this was the "Far West." But the godly men who loved it, with self-sacrificing zeal cherished and sustained it that it might be a centre of good influences to the generation to come. Now, it has passed through this season of trial and lives to be a power in the land. It has a beautiful campus of thirty acres, a grove it is, of native trees, and substantial buildings, (though but a plan is yet fulfilled,) free from debt, with $60,000 of property. This is a small endowment, it is true, but there is no incubus of debt to crush out the life of the College. A hundred thousand dollars more is needed, imperatively, and should be bestowed upon the institution. It would be a good investment for some rich Christian. The President of the College is our friend Dr. Tuttle, formerly of Rockaway, N. J. With him are associated the veteran Professors Hovey and Mills, and their younger collaborators, Professors Thompson, Campbell, and Hadley. They may well give themselves heartily to their charge, for here they are training in the centre of the West the men who will not only hold positions of influence in the West, but will exercise a power that will be felt throughout our land. All honor to those who, often amid much self-denial, are educating the men of the West for God and their native land. J. W. D.

News of our Churches.

GOOD NEWS FROM TENNESSEE.—Rev. R. P. Wells writes us that a meeting of much interest closed at the Spring Place Church, Knox County, Saturday night of week before last. The Church was greatly revived; and sixteen inquirers came forward in a single night; and eleven have united with the church, and others will probably join soon.

INSTALLATION IN NEWARK, N. J.—Rev. W. C. Scofield was, on the 1st inst. installed pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in Newark, by the Presbytery of Newark. The exercises are said to have been deeply interesting. Rev. I. McIlvaine, the Moderator, presided; and proposed the constitutional questions to the pastor and the people; the Rev. Dr. Burchard, of New York, preached the sermon from Matthew xx. 3, "Call the laborers and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first." Dr. Few Smith offered the installing prayer, Dr. Stearns gave the charge to the pastor, and Dr. Poor to the people.

INSTALLATIONS IN ILLINOIS.—On the evening of October 24th, the Presbytery of Knox installed Rev. George Duffield, Jr., as pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in the city of Galesburg. Rev. Samuel Wyckoff, Moderator, presided, and propounded the constitutional questions; Rev. A. K. Strong, of the Galena and Belvidere Presbytery, offered prayer; Rev. George Duffield, D.D., of the Presbytery of Detroit, preached the sermon; Rev. Wm. S. Curtis, D.D., delivered the charge to the pastor, and Rev. A. L. Brooks, that to the congregation.

On the next evening, the same Presbytery installed Rev. A. L. Brooks, late of Chicago, over the Church in Peoria. The Moderator presided, and put the constitutional questions: prayer was offered by Rev. George Duffield, Jr.; Rev. A. K. Strong preached the sermon, and the charges were delivered by Rev. Willis J. Beecher and Rev. Edwards Marsh. These installations place two of the most important churches of that Presbytery in good working condition.

MOVEMENTS OF MINISTERS.—Rev. John C. Taylor has removed to the new, but prospectively important village of Corry, on the recently opened Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, to assume the charge of the Presbyterian Church in that place. Rev. Francis Rand has taken up his residence in New Milford, in this State, having accepted the call of the Church there. Rev. E. F. Tanner has transferred his residence from Barren to Pardeeville, Wis.; and that of Rev. O. W. Norton is changed from Brooklyn, Mich., to Somerset, Hillsdale County in the same State.

SYNOD OF NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY.—We have before made mention of the meeting of this Synod. From the Narrative, just published, we glean the following items. The language of the Presbyterial reports indicates that there has been a steady advancement in spiritual interests, conversions occurring in almost all the churches, and revivals of religion in a few. Hudson Presbytery reports special interest, during the Synodical year, in Chester and Unionville. Long Island Presbytery, while deploring an unusual spiritual drought, records a refreshing shower upon the Church in Shelter Island. It also speaks cheerfully of a general improvement of the Temperance cause. The Third Presbytery of New York reports one revival, and states that the aspect of the whole field is eminently hopeful and progressive. The new church enterprises of the Fourth Presbytery of New York, have enjoyed encouraging prosperity and success. The Presbytery of Brooklyn reports two revivals, the payment of one Church debt of $23,500, and the erection of a mission school building at an expense of $12,000. From Newark Presbytery, most of the churches report conversions. The work of grace is not arrested, and the good seed continues to be sown in the hope of a more abundant harvest. The hearts of the pastors seem to be warming to their work. In the report of the Presbytery of Rockaway, the encouraging statement is made that "showers of heavenly grace have fallen on a few of the churches." A revival in Honesdale, Pa., is reported by the Presbytery of Montrose. The work included heads of families, youth and children. The preaching of the Word has been listened to with more than usual attention in several of the congregations. The decease of the Rev. Edwin E. Merriam, late pastor of the church in Salem, is recorded in sadness.

STEAM FROM NEW ORLEANS TO LIVERPOOL.—New Orleans, Nov. 7.—The steamship Alabama, Capt. Grover, crossed the bar to-day, bound for Liverpool, with a full cargo of cotton and other produce. This vessel is the pioneer of a semi monthly line that has just been established, and the prospects are favorable for making it a weekly line at an early day. Cotton can be shipped to Liverpool at a much less rate by steamers hence than it sent by the old route via New York, while the gain in time is more than one-half.
