broken out anew. A detachment of troops has been sent there from Richmond, and will

THE EXECUTIVE.

Important and Portentous .- On Saturday morning the President gave the country a fresh sensation, by sending out the following proclamation, said by the Washington dispatches, to have been unanimously ap-proved by the Cabinet. How much is meant by it, or what is likely to come of it, is, of course, a matter of much speculation-but, for the present, only speculation. The letter of it is as follows :--

By the President of the United States :

A Proclamation.

Whereas, A war is existing in the Repubfic of Mexico, aggravated by foreign military intervention; and

Whereas, The United States, in accordance with their settled habits and policy, are a montral power in regard to the war which thus afflicts the Republic of Mexico; and,

Whereas, It has become known that one of the belligerents in the said war, namely, the Frince Maximilian, who asserts himself to be the Emperor of Mexico, has issued a decree in regard to the port of Matamoras and other Mexican ports, which are in the occupation or possession of another of the said belligerents, namely, the United States of Mexico, which decree is in the following words :--

"The ports of Matamoras, and all those of the Northern frontier which have withdrawn from their obedience to the Government, are closed to foreign and coasting traffic during such time as the laws of the Empire shall not me therein reinstated.

Article 2. Merchandize proceeding from the said ports on arriving at any other where the excise of the Empire is collected, shall pay the duties on importation, introduction, and consumption, and as satisfactory proof of con-travention shall be irrepressibly confiscated. "Our Minister of the Treasury is charged with the punctual execution of this decree. "Given at Mexico the 9th of July, 1866;"

And Whereas, The decree thus recited by declaring a belligerent blockade, unsupported by competent military or naval force, is in violation of the neutral rights of the United States, as defined by the law of nations, as well as of the treaties existing between the United States of America and the aforesaid United States of Mexico;

Now, therefore, I, Andrew Johnson, Presi-dent of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that the aforesaid decree is held, and will be held by the United States. to be absolutely null and void as against the Government and citizens of the United ties, and that any attempt which shall be made to enforce the same against the Govbe disallowed.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United tes to be affixed.

Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that the insurrection which heretofore existed in the State of Texas is at an end, and is to be henceforth regarded in that State, as in the other States before named, in which the said insurrection was proclaimed to be at an end by the aforesaid Proclamation of the second day of April, one thousand eight hundre | and sixty-six; and I do further proclaim that the said insurrection is at an end, and that peace, order, tranquility and civil authority now exist in and throughout the whole of the United States of America. "The "My Policy" of the Approaching Gampaign.—On the 17th inst., the Presi-dent was waited upon by the New Hampshire delegation to the National Convention. In the course of the conversation, as reported for the Inquirer of this city, the delegates expressed the hope that the Federal officeolders in New Hampshire who maligned the President personally, and opposed his posicy, should be removed. They wanted some assurance from the Executive that when they and their friends made a showing of such offense, the offender should be reeved, and the office given to a friend of the Administration. With this assurance they could go back to their homes strong and confident that their State would support the President's policy. Mr. Johnson replied that we have now a policy and principles recognized and laid down by the most intelligent, able, and patriotic body of men that has been convened since the days of the Bedaration of Independence. A recognition of this policy and principles would be required of those who receive office and patconage from the Government. It was a duty the Administration owed itself, that strength and power should be given to those who maintain the principles declared by that great body of National men who met this week in convention at Philadelphia. The delegates expressed themselves highly gratified with what the President had said, and assured him that they would now go home with con-sidence in the success of the Administration party in their State.

The State Prisoner.-Washington despatches of August 15th say that further efforts have been made for the release of Jefferson Davis. The intervention in his behalt comes from leading men both of the North and South, who lay particular stress upon the fact that, if not soon set at liberty, he will be beyond all human power or human relief. The President, however, is careful not to commit himself with respect to his intentions, and the whole question of release, therefore, remains one of profound mystery.

It will be seen that plausibility and effect with weak-kneed Northerners is the point aimed at, we might fear too successfully, if the North had felt less experience of the utter falseness of parties in the Southern interest in their campaign platforms.
