News of the Week.

X1.th CONGRESS-First Session.

Senate.-March 3 .- The Finance Committee were directed to consider the expediency of repealing the internal taxes on incomes and manufactures. The House bill, restoring to the market the even-numbered alternate sections of land along the Pacitic Railroad was passed. The Secretary of the Senate was directed to inform the House that the Senate was ready to receive the Impeachment mana-

March 4.—A communication was received from gers. Chief Justice Chase, giving the opinion that the Senate should be organized as a Court before the House presents its impeachment articles, and that the Court, after organization, should frame its own rules, the Chief Justice presiding. It was referred. Soon after one o'clock, the impeachment managers, followed by the Republican members of the House, entered the Senate Chamber and presented the articles of impeachment. The President of the Senale said that due order would be taken, etc., on the arsaid that due order would be taken, etc., on the ar-ticles, whereupon the managers retired. A resolu-tion that the Senate begin the impeachment trial at one o'clock to-morrow was adopted, with orders that notice be given to the House and to the Chief Jusnotice be given to the House and to the Chair and tice of the United States. March 5.—Chief Justice Chase took the chair and oath of office at end of morning hour, and procee-ded to administer the oath to the Senators in alphabetical order, but when it came to Wade, Senator Hendricks made objection, as the decision of the Court may make this Senator President. This led to prolonged discussion.

to prolonged discussion. March 6.—The Senate at the expiration of the morning hour, proceeded to complete its organization as a Court of impeachment. The objection to Mr. Wade being sworn was withdrawn, and that gen-tleman took the oath. It was ordered that the President be summoned to appear on Friday next, the 13th inst. The rules of procedure heretofore adopted were re-adopted by the Court. March 7.— The Pension Appropriation bill was passed, with an amendment providing that the in-terest on the Naval Pension fund shall hereafter be at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, payable in paper money. March 9.—Mr. Vickers, Senator from Maryland,

House March 3.—The resolution declaring against further subsidies to the Pacific Railroad was tabled by a vote of 78 against 44. The Democratic members made another unavailing effort to present their protest against impeachment. The Post-office appropriation bill, which appropriates $20,000,000, was passed; also, the bill to relieve certain expor-ters of rum and alcohol. Two additional impeach-ment articles, presented by Messrs. Butler and Stevens, were adopted, after discussion. They relate to the abusive speeches of the President, and his re-sistence to the execution of the Reconstruction acts.

March 4.-The additional article of impeachment offered by Mr. Jenckes, of Rhode Island, was re-ferred. The House resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, and proceeded to the Senate Chamber to present the charges of impeachment. The General of the army was directed to report the vote cast at the Alabama election.

March 6 .-- The Election Committee reported a new form of oath of office for those whose political disabilities have been removed, and it was immediately passed. It is, "I, A. B., do solemuly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Con-stitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully dis-to enter. So help me God "-A bill removing the political disabilities of R. R. Butler, member elect from Tennessee, was then passed. The organization of the Court of Impeachment by the Senate and order of process against the President were announced

March 8 .- Vienna .- The Minister, of Foreign Affairs yesterday, in reply to a Magyar delegation, said he fully realized the importance of preserving friendly relations, with all European Powers, and especially with Italy.-London.-A remarkable debate on the Alabama claims took place Friday night in the Commons. Le Fevre, member from Reading, denounced the favoritism shown towards the South during the war, and the 'haste in' recognizing it at the start; enlogized Minister Adams and denounced Earl Russell for formerly refusing arbitration. He thought war between the nations unlikely, but deprecated needless irritation. Lord Stanley said England was ready to submit all questions—except her right the acknowledge the belligerency of the South—to arbitration. The excepted question could not modify the decision, and Mr. Seward had recognized that belligerency nine days before. Mr. Fos-ter complained that no proper measures had been taken to prevent the unfortunate closing of the ne-gotiations. Mr. J. S. Mill, said that the reason of the hitch was a mutual blunder. He thought the U.S. has no just cause of complaint in the matter of recognizing belligereucy, and he would prefer a mixed commission to a foreign arbiter. Gladstone thought the Alabama claims were groundless, but favored a commission, and said the country would favored a commission, and said the country would back Stanley in doing what was right. March 9.—London.—In the Commons, this eve-ning, the Home Secretary stated that the police had been previously informed of the plot for blowing up the walls of Clerkenwell prison. Their informer, who was within the prison, was to give them police when the conspirators approached to light the fuse by throwing a white hall over the wall, whereupon the police wire to seize the guilty parties. On the night before the explosion a cask of powder was seen in the street, but as no attempt was, made to blow up the wall that night, the signal was not blow up the wall that night, the signal was not given, the powder was allowed to remain, and no arrests were made. The police supposed the exe-cution of the plot was postponed, and were off their guard when the explosion took place, unexpectedly, during the day.—The Post (official) says that the plan of the government in Figurd to Ireland, is as follows: The consideration of the church question to be put off until the commission on the Irish Church establishment shall have made a report.
