Aews of the Week.

GENERAL.

The Congressional Retrenchment Committee had McCulloch and Rollins before them Sept. 22. The latter testified that he had made out a list of nominees, which the former had rejected for partizan reasons. The former admitted all the facts. Sept. 23. U.S. Asst. Att. Gen. Ashton testified that Binckley, who got up the prosecution of Commissioner Rollins, had no authority to make investigations. The Committee adjourned to meet in New York to-day.

Financial.—The smallest weekly shipment of gold, it is said, for fifteen years, was made last week. It was only a little more than $100,000.

STATES AND TERRITORIES.

Massachusetts.-Gen. Butler has been renominated by a nearly unanimous vote.

New York.—The National Labor Congress admitted delegates from the Women's Equal Rights Association after much debate. It was resolved to form a National Labor Reform party, but not to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, Louisiana.—The House of Representatives has appointed a committee to investigate, the riot,—A fight with pistols in New Orleans between rebel and radical clubs, occurred Sept. 22. No one killed The refusal to register certain "naturalized citizens" in the Fifth and Sixth Districts has caused great excitement in New Orleans. Street fights occur and Gov. Warmouth by proclamation advises citizens to stay at home.—The Governor vetoes the bill forbidding exclusion of negroes from places of public resort and public conveyances, on the ground that it makes such exclusim a crime, when it is only a civil offence -The veto is sustained in the House by a tie vote. A bill to secure the same end by making such dis inction a ground of civil action, instead of criminal prosecution, is introduced.

Tennessee.—The Radicals have carried Nashville by 520 majority, electing the Mayor, and the Councils, except one Councilman and two Aldermen.

Alabama.—Gov. Smith and five members of the Legislature have been appointed to ask the President for military aid in keeping the peace of the State and are now in Washington.

Georgia.—The rebel version of the massacre at Camilla admits that the first shot was fired without any active provocation by a white man, and that both parties were armed. The Sheriff and leading citizens in a published card express regret that the white men, who led the negroes, escaped, while filty of the latter were killed or wounded. They also show that the riot grew out of a determination not to allow Radicals to hold political meetings, or to bear arms. (The three leading white men at the meeting—one of them a candidate for Congress were wounded.) The Legislature takes the same ground as the Sheriff.—The bill to call out the State militia has failed. The Legislature will adjourn October 5.—The House have adopted a report declaring that the people accept reconstruction as an accomplished fact, and will protect the negroes in their rights.—The bill to prevent distinction on account of color in public conveyances and places of resort, was lost in the Senate, Sept. 28.

District of Columbia .- The trial of Suratt ended Sept. 24, with his discharge by Judge Wylie, on the ground that the case against him failed through the statute of limitation. An appeal was entered. -Robert T. Lincoln was married to Mary, daughter of Secretary Harlan, Sept. 24.—The District Attorney will present a new indictment of Surratt to

to the Grand Jury.

The Indians.—Col. Forsyth's force, on the Republican river, was attacked, Sept. 17th, by an overpowering force of Indians, and lost several in the fight. Reinforcements were sent out from Fort Walker.—A detachment from Fort Davis, in Texas, routed a band of Indians, rescuing two captives .-Gen. Sully has driven the hostile Texas Indians beyond the border of that State.—Col. Forsyth's party, Sept. 10th, was still besieged in their camp, but confident of holding out. They had killed 25 Indians in a sortie.—Treaties have been made with the Shoshones and other tribes in Idaho and Montana .- Col. Forsyth was reinforced, Sept. 24th, in his desperate position.—Gen. Sherman is going to s to frontier settlers.

BY ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

September 21 .- London, midnight .- The Queen of Spain is at St. Sebastian, and the roads to the capital are unsafe. Martial law has been proclaim-Concha leads the Royalist troops, and Gonzales Bravo—the retiring premier—has fied.

September 22.—London.—An insurrection has broken out in Calabria and Sicily-Republican in its aims. The Government are trying strong measures of repression.—In Spain many districts and provinces have joined the rebels, who cry for "the sovereignty of the people," and "appeal to the nation." Gen. Prim and De Roda are marching on Madrid, Cadiz is seized. Servilla is the seat of a provincial government. From Malaga to Carthagena the country is in arms. Espartero sanctons the rebellion .- Paris .- Official despatches admit that the insurrection has broken out in Madrid and Serville, but deny its existence in Gallicia and Murcia .- Vienna .- The Spanish rebels demand the abdication of Isabella in favor of her son, and the holding an extra session of the Cortes. Concha assures the Spanish ambassadors at foreign Courts that they will be put down. France will be neutral, but a French fleet will see to the interests of French residents.—Lisbon.—The Montpensiers, [Isabella's banished next of-kin] are about to set out for Spain.

—Berlin.—King William is at home again.—Trieste. -A Cretan delegation waited on Farragut to day and thanked him for the aid and comfort extended by the U. S. to Crete. He expressed great interest in their cause september 23.- London,-The Standard contrasts the cool reception of the Chinese here with the enthusiasm in the U.S. It says the ministry must see that they are dealing with real Commissioners, and not foreign go-betweens.—The cotton crop in Egypt is enormous.—A Peace Congress is to meet at Berre.-The Spanish insurrection was organized at a conference between Prim and the exiled Generals at Cadiz. A captain of a royal iron clad joined them, turned the guns upon the town, and compelled it to surrender. The Generals then sailed each to a given point on the coast, and raised the standard of revolt in the provinces.—Evening.—The for-tified town of Stutina has joined the rebels. The railroads and telegraphs in the S. E. are not work-ing. The excitement grows in Madrid.—The rebels proclaim that if successful they will leave all questions to the vote of the whole people. An attack on Madrid is reported. Sarragossan is fortifying itself against the insurgents.—Paris.—The Queen has had to go back to St. Sebastian. The insurgents proclaim Espartero President. Madrid is reported evince his faith in peace.

September 24.—London.—Reverdy Johnson made a speech at the Leeds Exhibition to-day, in which he eulogised Gen. Napier and the British Army which fought at Magdala—Evening.—The Queen proclaims all Spain in a state of siege. The Royalist General, Ismander, has joined the rebels! with his force, at Santander, where many lives were lost in a desperate affray. Prim, with the Duke de la Torre (the Provisional President) is marching on Madried at the head of 20,000 men. They refuse offers of compromise from Gen. Concha. They declare any officer a traitor, who orders soldiers to fire on the people or the pairiot army. The ships in the harbor of St. Sebastian declare for the rebels. -Paris -The official papers here discredit the re-

quiet.-The Moniteur says King William's speeches

ports of insurgent scresses in Spain, declaring Catalonia, Arragon and Valencia are quiet and the army loyal. They say the rising is confined to Andalusia and that the rebels are retiring before the royal and that the rebeis are rething cooler the royal troops. France is to strengthen her posts on the frontier.—Evening.—The Queen is at St. Sebastian, will drobably cross the frontier into France. The Royalists claim to have put down the rebellion in Granada, after a battle of two hours duration, and that the rising is confined to the Province of Santander and the cities of Malaga and Seville. The citizens of Cadiz take no part.—The murder of the Captain General of Valencia by a mob is reported, The insurrection reported in Calabria and Sicily is

September 25 - London .- Dean Milman is dead. The Times and the Telegraph takes Reverdy Johnson's speeches as an indication that outstanding difficulties between the two countries will be speedily settled.—The Spanish rebels are especially strong on the seaboard and in the N. W. They hold several fortified seaports in the province of Corunna Two royalist regiments, sent to put them down in Cadiz, have revolted.—Paris.—The Moniteur says the royalist troops are in good heart and are pre-paring to attack Cadiz. Official despatches claim a royalist victory in Santander, after which the September 26 .- Paris .- Despatches from Spain ay a decisive battle is expected between Gen. Parvas and Serrano every moment. The Queen refuses to send her son to the capital, "to rule a people of robbers and assassins." Prince Napoleon has been summoned to Paris to consult with the Emperor on Spanish affairs.—Madrid.—The insurgents have seized Cordova and destroyed the bridge and the R. R. Several additional provinces are admitted, (and the Balearic Islands are said) to have risen. The rebel officers swear to take no pay, and to free Spain from a corrupt dynasty.—St. Petersburg.—The frigate Alex. Neoski has been wrecked off the coast of Denmark, with Grand Duke Alexis on board, but all hands were saved.—Berne.—The Governments of Europe and of the U.S. will be invited to send lelegates to the Peace Congress soon to meet here. ienna.—Andrassy, the Hungarian premier, resigns th ough ill health.

September 27.—London.—The liberals and the noderate constitutionalists have united in the Spanish rebellion. The desertion of the fleet to their side is from dissatisfaction through want of pay The Church fights for the throne. Granada, Seville, Cadiz, Cordova, Valencia and some dozen other provinces are the scenes of the insurrection. The royalist commander in chief found his troops so veakened by desertion, that he was forced to desist from his march on Cordova, and wait for reinforce-ments. Biscayan troops have marched to the de-fence of the Queen. The French Imperialist jour-nals, fearing the effect of example, discourage the rebellion, but its success is generally expected, and it will probably put the exiled Montpensiers on the throne. Serrano and Novalisches are approaching each other and the latter begs for royalist reinforce ments. Prim seems to act independently of other insurgent leaders. The royalists claim to have routed their opponents in Alicante. The N. E. provinces have not risen. Dublin.—The Tories and the Fenians are uniting in the presentation of sundry candidates for Parliament.

September 28.—London.—The troops at Santander are recalled to Madrid, on which the rebels are certainly marching in force. In the interior nearly all the provinces have risen.—Midnight.—Carthagena has been bombarded by the rebel fleet. Prim has gone to Valencia. The royalist commander is retirging before Serrano.—Paris.—Accessions to the rebels are continually reported. The Patrie says that they are growing stronger and the royalists growing weaker. The last ship of the fleet has joined them, and public opinion is every-where on their side. The little royalist army is dis-organized.—Count Walewskii son of Napoleon I, lied yesterday. - Spaniards are not allowed to return home through France —Berlin —The Emperor of Russia visited King William at Potsdam yester-
