As classes resume, we find Mr. Simon's Varsity Cagers moving into action to better their current record of two wins and five setbacks. It is interesting to note that while their record is not too impressive on paper, with a little luck, it could have read six victories and a lone loss. Of the Five losses, four have been by the total of seven points. In these games our boys have outscored the opposition from the field, but better work by the opponents from the foul line has spelled defeat.

The remainder of the varsity schedule is as follows:

- Saturday, Feb. 12—Allegheny frosh, away, 3:00 P. M.
- Tuesday, Feb. 15 — Alliance, frosh, away, 7:00 P. M.
- Monday, Feb. 21—Allegheny frosh, home, 8:00 P. M.
- Saturday, Feb. 26—Jamestown frosh, home, 8:00 P. M.
- Friday, Mar. 4—McKeesport

frosh., home, 8:00 P. M.

The Intramural league is well underway now, and it looks like it will take until the last game of the season to pick the ultimate champions. As we go to press, there are six teams deadlocked for first place. The Snow Geese, Count 69's, Dukes, Chem. Cagers, Stars and Beau Brummels all post identical records of two wins and one loss. Next are the Eagles with zero and three, and the Faculty with zero and four. Anyone wishing to participate in the league should contact Mr. Simon and be placed on a team.

Just a note to the tennis coach: Your chore this year should be much easier with the arrival of Peter DeDad to our campus. Pete has been one of the outstanding young tennis players in the city of Erie during the past few years, and will probably be a welcome addition to the court team.

As a closing reminder: A good sportsman is always a good sport.

Compy's Cuties

By Nancy Hendershot

Now that the second semester is in session, you soon will be hearing the familiar voice of Compy counting, "One, two, three, and one, two, three," while the gals in gym do their exercises with a rhythm that they have learned through last semester's hard work. Later on this semester Compy plans to have dual and individual competition in sports such as badminton, volleyball, and possibly golf.

The sophomore girls, who are taking phys. ed. during the spring semester, will be enjoying Thursday morning swims at the Y. W. C. A. Jody Borkowski, Frannie Nielsen, Jet Turner, Dot Kaliszewski, Norma Michael, and Janie Eisenberg are the girls who can be real "cool" on those warm spring mornings. How lucky can you get?

The female basketball squad is doing a fine job of representing Behrend Center, but they ask your co-operation in attendance. In the past, Jan Jackson, Jo Haulmeyer and Fran Vidil were on the team, but they have transferred to State leaving three vacancies. Remaining members include: Pat Stocker, May Schoch, Charlotte Flack, Ardelle Johnson, Marge Elliot, Peggy Duff and Norma Michael, who is also vice-president of the Recreation League Executive Council. Co-managers of the team are Frannie Nielsen and Valerie Meals. The girls also welcome Rose Hibbard, a newcomer to the squad.

Before the boys' basketball game with Jamestown on February 26, the girls' team will play Mercyhurst College at 7:00.

The City Recreation Basketball League schedule for this semester is as follows:

- Feb. 14—Fields Home, Erie Hall, 7:30 P. M.
- Feb. 17—Strong Vincent, away, 7:15 P. M.
- Feb. 22—Holy Trinity Youth Center, away, 7:15 P. M.
- Mar. 1—American Sterilizer, away, 7:15 P. M.

Let's

As usual, with the end of the semester, comes the end of the bowling activities for the Behrend Center league, this year known as the "Birds." Not that they were all dirty birds, but it's a good expression and doesn't mean anything derogatory. As this column is dedicated to a summary of events of last semester, let's get started.

On October 18, the league got off to a "rolling" start with fourteen teams in tow at the Perry Plaza Alleys located at 26th and Broad, in Erie. There were many idiosyncrasies cropping up during the year and many of them are worth mentioning. For instance—the most humorous were the cat-calls and barn dance yells coming from the direction of the Girard DoDo's; Dottie Maxwell's and Janie Brown's good luck knee socks; the cessation of the term gutter ball, now known as Blaine Smith Boulevard Balls; the friendly rivalry among the different teams and even between the same team's members; the surprising average jumps after a few weeks of practice; Jay Roling's "20 mission crush" look hat, after the miss of a single spare; Mr. Simon holding the fort as the top faculty bowler, Bill Schweitzer and Ernie Kittka leading men students, and Jody Borkowski as the woman with the highest average; Jack Rimp's scores ranging from 99 to 145 in the space of three games; the free advice given out by Mr. Patterson about making spares; Jim Lay always challenging someone to a duel with a coke as the usual wager; Willy Storer having to serve as a pin for kicking the ball rack; the lousy driving weather that did not deter the avid bowling fans from their "pursuit of happiness"; Val Meals determination in rolling two balls in succession keeping them out of the gutter; Donna Cramer's crazy kiltie skirts that she usually only wore to bowling; the kidding about not bribing the pin boys enough to knock over that last pin that just won't fall; missing a spare that a two year old could get, and then achieving the impossible—a strike!

So you see that bowling isn't all work and no play. The new league has started and promises to be just as much fun as last semester. So come on, gang, and join in the fun and try your luck at a good sport—Bowling!

Dorm Divots

By Pats Lentz and Stocker

The dorm has been buzzing with activities these last few days. Gals with cartloads of pennants, souvenirs, pandas, and coke bottles scurry from room to room, adding more confusion to the already confused atmosphere. What a reception for the bewildered new members of the dorm.

"What a fabulous place," was the view of one of the new co-eds, Frances Jean Ciccozzi, better known as Jeanie, she comes from Maneka, Pa., where she just finished five months of nurses' training. Enrolled as a first semester freshman in secondary education, Jean's interests lay in the fields of ice skating, bowling, and badminton.

Gayle Williams, a vivacious lass, is a recent entrant of the Behrend dorm who hails from Westmoreland County. Before entering college, she worked for a year and a half at the West Penn Power Co. Now a freshman on our campus, she is interested in agriculture and biological chemistry.

Beverly Chace of North East will be another new face for awhile on the Behrend Campus. Enrolled in the curriculum of Elementary education, Beverly's interests are all around a future as a physical education instructor.

If you'd happen to walk by the back two rooms, you'd notice right away that something's missing. The reason is that Jan Jackson, our beloved comrade has deserted us for Pitt. We hear that Bonnie Champney has filled the empty spot, so hold your horses, kids. Anything can happen!

The new and old dorm girls became better acquainted at the dorm meeting to elect new council members. High man on the totem pole, Donna Cramer, was elected to the office of president. Ethel Hockenberry will act as vice-president and Venice Cecacci assumes the duties of secretary-treasurer. Others chosen for the dorm council were, May Schoch, Ardelle Johnson, Bonnie Champney, and Sylvia Mackie.

So here we'll be for another semester of bull sessions, Val Meal's funny jokes, Whitney White's "Jack, Jack, Jack," Char Flack's typing till all hours, Joyce Gouger's thirty-two page letter to Art, and Peg Duff's science fiction magazines.

Winter Provides Fun And Frolic

By Jane Kennedy

Since snow still dominates the scenic beauty of the B. C. campus, a further treatise on winter sports and activities should not be too much out of place. In fact, however much we grumble and moan about the winter weather, in what season can you have such fun tormenting people with snowballs, breaking arms and legs while skiing, getting raw, chapped faces from a windy toboggan ride, and skate for hours on end, and then stand up for a while?

Besides, winter gives everybody a chance to use his few brains to good advantage. For instance, it took no small amount of work from Peggy Duff, Bonnie Champney, and Gerry Guzik to map a detour to the chem building in order to avoid the snowballs of Jay Roling and Jason Eades. John Olsen and Wally O'Neal guarantee the equivalent amount of safety on a whizzing toboggan that you would find in their own cars. Some comfort, I must say!

Sitting down in the cafeteria is the principal project of Bill Schwietzer and John Kolpien after two weeks of practice skiing. But sitting down is not what Val Meals and Donna Cramer are joyful over. After a few skating lessons from Art Carroll, they're happy to stand around doing nothing strenuous. Many pillows needed, girls?

But anyway, winter provides fun and frolic for all, in spite of the inconveniences, and Behrend has plenty of winter.
