

STRIKES and SPARES

By Ross Caruana

Another season of bowling is over and there are new champs to be crowned. The Stars put on a late inning rally and came out on top by only one point. Going into the last three games of the season, the Stars were three games up on the Ravens who were in second place. But the Ravens still had to contend with a very determined faculty. At the end of the three games, Thurbon and company came out in second place taking the points from Ravens, thus giving the Stars the championship. The Stars team consisted of Earl Schriver, Wally O'Neal, Marshall Werner, Ross Caruana, and Laurie Hill.

It was a very even league with many close games and there were many good individual games.

Jack Curll put on a fine exhibition one night when he came up with a 211 game which was good for the high men's game. Jack also had a 204 game earlier. Mr. Thurbon came in second with a 206 followed by Mr. Beal with a 204.

The high individual average goes to Mr. Thurbon with a 174 average. Second to Mr. Thurbon was Earl Schriver with a 162 average.

Congratulations are due to one Bob Bainbridge for making the 4, 7 and 10 split. It takes pretty good rolling to make that one.

A lot of credit also goes to our two league secretaries namely Alice Darwin and Nancy Hender-shot. They did a wonderful job keeping everyone posted on the standings and averages.

+ Dorm Chatter +

By Marilyn Pringle

As this issue of the Cub goes to press, we all have great hopes that spring is arriving in dreary Erie. However, everyone is afraid to mention this thought for fear of causing another blizzard. But April will get here eventually and with its coming one can notice the change in the dorm girls. The girls' fancies are turning to thoughts of that many splendored thing . . . Love. With this in mind it is understandable why Harriet is floating around on cloud seven whenever Dick appears.

Since Dot has resigned the Phi Steady Staters she has been devoting her time to Gannon. Of course with Marilyn's undying love and devotion to Arthur, we see Gannon is gaining much??? A bulletin has just arrived that Connie has also pledged Gannon boys as males of the year. How do these boys rate?

Janie has just returned from spending a happy weekend at home. Could be a certain male was the cause of her extra radiant face.

What is this game called "woof-woof?" Anita seems to know all the rules, even how ladies 70-odd can and do play the game in front of Shea's Theater.

Gretch is tired of the Phi Steady Staters and is moving on to bigger and better things. Congratulations!

With the melting of the snow, we see that Judy has turned to her first love . . . golf.

Hey, Bev, what does the Air Force have that Behrend lacks? Congratulations, Becky! (She, too, is a member of the Phi Steady Staters). Why so long in telling the good news??

Good luck to Bonnie and Annie in the Miss Erie contest. These sharp coeds are bound to succeed. The Home Ec. girls are busy again. Elaine, La La, Laurie, and Nancy are hard at work on their latest creations.

Cliffie will welcome his leading lady this weekend as Linda is busily packing for another week end at State.

The radio from the dorm is blaring out some of the girls' theme songs. Is that Sue singing "Tease Me But Don't Squeeze Me"? Here comes Barbara dedicating "Come Down From Your Ivory Tower" to Big John. Laurie Brutout is dancing around and humming "Am I In Love?" Nancy is undecided again. That must be why she is singing "Change Partners." The radio is turned down

SPORT SCOPE

By Raleigh Chesley

Spring is here? As bowling is slowly fading out we see Mr. Thurbon, Earl Schriver and Jack Curll leading the top of the bowling list with a very successful season.

Softball is now breezing in along with the April wind. Everyone who is interested in getting together a softball team had better get on the jump. Each boy planning on turning in a team had better turn his list in to Mr. Simon within the next few days. Even though Mr. Beal has already been selected, there are still several good players available.

The pool table has certainly made a hit with the student body by occupying their precious time. A tournament has been started by a few of the "pool sharks" and is coming along nicely. Some of the boys are very unruly when it comes to handling the pool table equipment and do not appreciate what we now have. If this pool table is to be kept in shape certain boys will have to take care of it better than they have been.

Another sport that everyone is waiting for is swimming. If the pool isn't ready before long we think Frank Schiller might just possibly go crazy. We don't think he will go quite that far with workday this Tuesday. The campus will be in ship-shape and looking its best after that eagerly anticipated day.

now, and all that can be heard is Laurie Hill "Moaning The Blues."

What is the latest mode of transportation for the dorm girls? Ask Janie, as she is president of this newly formed club. Speaking of clubs, it seems four of the dorm girls have taken up golf and formed a club. This isn't unusual, but their golf course is. Isn't that true, girls?

Eileen is floating up to cloud 7 to join Harriet. Her reason is a tall, handsome guy with a dimple in his chin.

What is our frivolous gal Sal doing these days? It seems she is stepping out on us.

The phone has just rung and a voice in the distance is saying, Who is it? What do you want? Huh? That must be the voice of "Mole".

Till next time . . .

Bye!

Compy's Cuties

Perhaps you've seen the girls from Physical Education classes coming out limping and aching? They've been doing co-ordination exercises, which isn't easy. I was informed that some of those lucky girls are performing for the Mothers' Day Tea, held in May.

We've had an exciting badminton tournament this season, with Anne Pagel and Marilyn Pringle the winning partners. On our accuracy tests in badminton, Anne Pagel, with 17 shots out of 20, emerged the winner so far. Marilyn Pringle, is second, with 14 out of 20.

With all the beautiful weather due us soon, we hope, most of the girls are anxiously awaiting their first dip in the pool, except, among other people, Anita Formati. Compy will certainly have a rough time teaching some of us.

Now that the Girls' Basketball season is over, I think the girls deserve a round of thanks for their efforts. Their record wasn't anything sensational, but at least they tried, and were good sports about the whole thing. We know it was rough with all the studying (?) you had to get done.

The classes wish you a speedy recovery, Compy. You've certainly had your share of bad luck, with mumps and all.

Hep With Hap!

During these balmy spring days at Behrend, Marshall "Hap" Werner has been reminiscing about spring in Tokyo. Hap served as a corporal in Japan from 1953 until 1955, working in radio securities. Since he worked at night, he was able to spend his days in the Tokyo sunlight.

Among the many pleasant past-times available to the U. S. serviceman in Japan is golf. A unique feature of the Japanese golf courses is their employment of female caddies. Perhaps this is a disadvantage, however, for Hap reports that his score was generally well in the hundreds.

The hardy Japanese race, many of whom live on the equivalent of about twenty-five U. S. dollars a month, none the less manage to greet life with enthusiasm. Their national sport, baseball, is enjoyed by nearly everyone and is played throughout the year. Hap says that he frequently saw Japanese office and factory workers engaged in a game of catch on the Tokyo streets during their lunch hours.

We will admit that spring at Behrend is cloudy, but for Hap Werner, at least, the days are brightened with his memories of sunny Japan.

Bainbridge Leads Behrend Linksters in Team Qualifier

Behrend Center held its annual golf qualifying rounds recently at Lake Shore Golf Course. Mr. Milton Simon, coach of the college golf team, has announced that the number one man will be Bob Bainbridge, and the number two man will be Randy Liebau. For the last two positions Mr. Simon is planning to rotate Dick Kubiak, Judy Young, Jack Hassell, and Pete Dedad. Bainbridge and Liebau, both captains, are returning veterans to the team. Last year's team won two games and lost two games. They beat Gannon 8-4, and they lost to Gannon 14-4 and to Allegheny 3 1/2-2 1/2. This year the team will possibly play Gannon, Slippery Rock, Alliance, and Allegheny. Monday, April 30, the team will play Gannon at the Lake Shore Golf Course, May 17, they will play a return match with Gannon, and May 10 the team will travel to Meadville to play in the Tri-State Tournaments. Last year the team placed 9 out of 13 with Bainbridge number 3 and Liebau number 8. Members of the team have expressed hopes that the team will be stronger this year than in the past.

+ CHIEFLY CHATTER +

By "Chief" Thomas

Here comes that Chief again, always looking for stuff for his Chenne column. I really don't write this column; it's ghost written by Dr. Smith. My second candidate for Chenne (often Judy) is not Bob O'Connor or Dick Jeffords. It's none other than your friend and mine, Long John Mallory. How do I come to such a conclusion, you ask. And I say to you . . . simple. Which is only natural considering my simple mind, but anyway, after the last issue of the Cub . . . in which there was no Chenne, you remember . . . Jackie and Gibbie (fine fellows) got the idea that a separate column should be put up, . . . And on the Bulletin boards yet!

All of this so that you, the oppressed and downtrodden, might be aware of all the little secrets that go on at our fair (?) school. This was merely their little way of bringing Chenne to everyone, whether it's in the Cub or not. And now our literary and poetic tid-bit:

There was an old woman
Who lived in a shoe.
She had so many children
She didn't know what to do.
Evidently.

Jack (Chairman of the ENTIRE Spring Dance!) Mallory is all set for summer employment on the Buffalo Reservation. Thanks to Bonnie and Becky. Janie and Eileen are running neck and neck
