

Girls Get a Pep Talk

COMPY'S CUTIES take a much needed breather at half-time in one of their exciting basketball games.

Compy really picked an appropriate time to enlighten her P. E. 12 class in the arts of pushing and lifting, for that was the same Monday afternoon that Dean Lane announced that school was out because of the drifting conditions. Many of the Behrend lassies soon were able to apply their lesson in leverage to the storm. And boy, was that snow heavy!

Question of the week: Who was first out of the door when Dr. Smith dropped the rat in zoo? Could it have been the same girl who, two hours later, used rats for her visual aids in speech class?

It seems that the freshman girls must entertain the sophs at a tea right before Easter vacation. At least one frosh would prefer an analyst test that hour. That's a hint, Mr. Pat.

Bernie is forming an anti-kidnapping society. It seems that she was the unwilling accomplice in a recent abduction. This society, if formed, might be in favor of abolishing the "Stull Hall Taxi Service".

Tudy bowled a terrific 163 game in one of her gym classes. She also has the high woman's game in league competition this semester—a 134, which, she boasts, was higher than anyone had on her team for that game. Following closely behind Tudy's 134 is Edie with a 129. Those pin boys must have quite a psychological effect.

Not that Judy is a poor sport, it seems that there are times when she doesn't like to be beaten at badminton. Could it be the environment that causes her anxiety? Sandy may begin to think twice before climbing into the "suicide seat" of a car. How does that tree look?

Some of the girls are fascinated by Dick J.'s clothes.

Lea is receiving fame for her ability to turn around while standing on her head.

Rita wants to know why all the big news breaks on her night off. If you intend to start a fire or commit patricide, she requests that you do it on a Saturday night.

Question: What happened to all the party dolls? Did they, like the dinosaurs and the dooey-doo club, become extinct?

Wanted: decent shuttlecocks. Due to the condition of the present ones, all the girls have to play badminton with two racquets, one to hit the tip and one to smash the feather end across.

Sara has resolved never again to write in her German book.—Does the same apply to analyst?

Congratulations to the five girls—Ruth, Kathy, Lea, Bernie, and Laz—recently elected to Student Council. One thing for sure, there's a balanced representation of the sexes this semester.

Why do the fellows insist that Behrend is a boys' school? There are 16 coeds to prove otherwise.

Due to the embarrassments which occur almost daily in the locker-room, it would be appreciated if, on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons, between the hours of 1:20 and 3:10, all the young men desiring to enter said room would kindly knock.

While on the subject of the locker-room, the boys in the 1:20 class on Mondays are reminded that it is not a powder room, and it is supposed to be the woman who takes so long dressing.

The second semester sports program includes a variety of new sports due to the efforts of Coach Goodwin.

The moans and groans coming from the gym these past weeks are the results of the newly formed wrestling team. The owners of the sore muscles are Norm Thomas, 123 lbs., Fred Monaco, 130 lbs., Chuck Simons, 137 lbs., Nick Smolokov, 147 lbs., Tom Zelinski, 157 lbs., Bob Verbanic, 167 lbs., Bill Roberge, 177 lbs., and Jim Turner, heavy weight.

Five intramural basketball teams have been organized. The teams consist of: Dorm 1: Wes Carter, Chuck Simons, George Place, Marsh Fisk, Gerry Sedney, George Brecosky, and Sid Wallace; Stull Hall: Ron Raymond, Fred Monaco, Dave Lord, John Beatty, Bill Novotny, Bob Pawlak, and Frank Hurst; Dorm 2: Ed Muirhead, Bob Loesch, Dave Miller, Jim Stewart; Team 4: Frank Rote, Walt Findley, Dick Culver, Bud Seiffert, Bert Hackenberg, Mike Nagel; DDT: Bob Pius, Bob Jones, Bob Yount, John Kirkpatrick, Bob O'Conner, Dick Covatto, "Tooche" Donatucci, Fred Faulk, and Jim Ward. The results of the games played to date:

Dorm 2 - 23 — Team 4 - 60

Dorm 1 - 47 — Dorm 2 - 11

Dorm 1 - 20 — Stull Hall - 38

Dorm 2 - 18 — DDT - 46

Team 4 - 42 — DDT - 40

Recently the Behrend Center ping pong team was defeated by the Gannon Knights. Those representing Behrend were Herb Bair, Bob Seka (ff, Bill Novotav, Jerry Mitchell, Norm Thomas, and Nick Smolokov.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Gerry Sedney

The Behrend Bowlers have struck again! Their latest victim, the Edinboro State Teachers' bowling team went down in defeat twice. In the first match it was Dick Covatto who was hitting the pins for the highest of the series. Not having enough, Edinboro tried again. This time Bob Pius calmed them down with his competent bowling.

However, our alleys have been very slow during the last few weeks. Either studies are piling up or participants are losing their zest for the game. With the facilities available there is no reason for decline in the bowling program. Better participation would provide for more interesting bowling activities.

Up to date the team standings are as follows:

1. 1st Year D.D.T.
2. E. Tech.
3. 2nd Year D.D.T.
4. Edie's Choppers

Tumble, Tumble, Little Star

by
Wes Carter

The human body is undoubtedly one of the most ruggedly built structures of today. To validate this statement, all one has to do is to skip down to the gym on any week day afternoon. As you approach the door, strange noises meet the ear. There are crashes, bangs, and thump-thumps. When you enter, there before you are weird little earthlings (called men.)

These poor creatures are subordinating their helpless bodies to bars, mats, and weights. This, my dear friends, is the tumbling class of ole Hank Goodwin. Actually, he feels as though his boys are the toughest there are today.

Slowly, day by day, muscle by muscle, and ache by ache his theory is proving to be correct. Today the big issue is tumbling. From the big, stout, Gary Raimys to the short, skinny Walt Parkers, everyone loves it and all try it.

For example, I would like to speak very highly about an individual we all know and love so dearly—Mr. Robert Verbanic. I speak with such sincere dedication because he has helped to make Behrend Center athletics what it is today.

One day our hero was asked to perform an exercise on the hi-bar in gym. The exercise is called the kick, in which you swing, kick, and raise yourself above the bar. Confidentially, he walked to the bar, smiled at his classmates, and proceeded to do the exercises. Completely ignoring the proper swing and kick, he began to kick vigorously as if being attacked by a pack of wolves. I might add that the whole class was prone with wild laughter.

Things such as this make our tumbling class more fun than work. I know I can speak for the others as well as myself when I say it is the greatest!

Remember—look after you leap, it's more fun that way.

Anachronism?

Not really. 'Cause if Coke had been around in Caesar's day, Caesar would have treated himself to the sparkling good taste, the welcome lift of Coke! Caesar's motto—"I came, I saw, I conquered." Pretty good motto for Coke too—the prime favorite in over 100 countries today!
