Journalism Workshop Set For Behrend

Freshman coed Nancy McCabe gives us a pretty reminder that the Thanksgiving holiday starts soon, as she hands her turkey to Mrs. Enola Kelly, Behrend's head cook. (Editor's note to the Daily Collegian: Nancy isn't "really" a pilgrim, and she didn't "really" shoot the turkey.)

Behrend Briefs

Mr. Joseph Vigorito, accounting instructor, addressed the Friday Noon Discussion Group of the Erie YMCA recently. His topic was the city of Berlin. Mr. Vigorito visits either Europe or South America each summer.

Dean Benjamin A. Lane spoke to the Belles-Lettres Club of Mercyhurst College, a literary organization, Tuesday, November 10. He presented a discussion on Dylan Thomas, the poet and image.

The Erie County Chapter of the ACES (Americans for Competitive Enterprise System) has invited twenty students each from Behrend, Gannon College, Mercyhurst College, Villa Maria Academy, Edinboro State Teachers' College, and fifteen or twenty Erie industrialists to hear Mr. John Seliskar, vice president of the Central National Bank of Cleveland, speak on the meaning and impact of inflation in an expanding economy. A discussion period will follow.

A movie originally filmed for television will be shown November 23 and 24 here on campus by Mr. Burns, instructor in history, for anyone interested. The title of the film is "Golden Twenties." The newsreel footage presents highlights of politics, Wall Street activities, religions, athletics, prohibition, military and foreign situations, the arts and other events which reflect the spirit of the times.

JOHN D. VAIRO OF THE MAIN CAMPUS CONDUCTING PROGRAM

A one-day Journalism Workshop will be held Saturday, November 21, in Erie Hall at Behrend Campus, starting at 9 a.m. It will be conducted by Mr. John D. Vairo of the School of Journalism, Penn State University, and a staff of area newspaper personnel. The workshop is a result of a survey conducted by letter last April to determine the interest of student newspaper staffs and their advisors in attending such a workshop.

Activities Calendar

The following activities are scheduled for the remainder of November:

- 20—Friday—Basketball — Jamestown (home) 8 p.m.
- 24—Tuesday—Basketball — McKeesport (home) 8 p.m.
- 24—Tuesday—Record Hop
- 24—Thanksgiving Recess Begins, 5 p.m.
- 30—Thanksgiving Recess Ends, 8:10 a.m.

The following objectives for the program were set forth: offering high school students the knowledge and experience of the University in newspaper production, giving students and teachers the opportunity of discussing student newspaper problems, analyzing various high school newspapers, and encouraging students to enter journalism as a career.

The workshop will include a film, "Behind the Type," a discussion, a panel to which students are to bring several copies of their school's newspapers, and a tour of the campus.

A fee of $2.50, covering registration and a catered lunch, will be charged each enrollee.

"FROM HEARTS AND FLOWERS TO ROCK AND ROLL"

Speaker

Thursday, November 19, at the common hour meeting, Behrend students will have a chance to hear, as their speaker, Mr. Max Darone. Mr. Darone, secretary of the YMCA, will give an illustrated talk entitled "From Hearts and Flowers to Rock and Roll." He will use the piano and has even promised to bring his guitar, which could make the presentation even more enjoyable.

For years, Mr. Darone has been making a hobby of collecting popular songs reflecting conditions of United States history. Some of these songs will be related to the Civil War and the Spanish American War. Most, however, will pertain to Pennsylvania.

Max Darone, YMCA secretary, will speak to students in tomorrow's assembly program.
