

Personality Parade

This issue's pert personality is taking advantage of Erie's spring weather which, of course, is characterized by plenty of snow.

She can be found between classes in the Behrend library where she studiously does her homework. Our personality generally has a great deal of homework to do because she is enrolled in a chemistry curriculum. Her appetite for scholarship is certainly indicated by the fact that she graduated valedictorian of her class at Lawrence Park High School. Also, this issue's personality's name can be found on the honor role for the first semester. Although she is kept busy with studies and campus activities, she still finds ample time to talk with several male Behrendites such as Bob Johnson or Don Kelly.

Our personality is a member of the Literary Club and has been very active in both Behrend dramatics and her dramatic club in high school. You readers saw our personality portray a heartless newspaper editor in the Christmas play, "A By-line for St. Luke". In addition, she has been cast as Mrs. Garnet in "Out of the Frying Pan," the spring play.

New students at Behrend know this girl almost immediately, because of her famous father.

Besides her last name, other distinctive features are blonde but not dumb; blue eyes, likes to sew, read and travel; and has a ready smile and hello.

Approximately 25 adults from the Booker T. Washington Center, the St. Mary's Episcopal Church, and other religious and social organizations attended a Leadership Training Program held last weekend in the Library of the Behrend campus. The sessions started on Friday evening at 7:00 p.m. and concluded on Sunday afternoon at 5:00 p.m.

This was the third such training session conducted here over the last two years and is a part of the program made possible through a grant given to Penn State by the Ford Foundation to promote adult study-discussion courses in the Arts, Sciences and Humanities. At the conclusion of the course, which and Mr. Goodwin has worked out a 12-game schedule which includes Buffalo, Altoona, Alliance, Jamestown, and the Penn State freshman team. Prospects for the team look good, and if the weather permits, it should be a fine season.

Coach Goodwin also has a tentative 4-match schedule arranged for the golf team, but is afraid he won't have enough golfers to make up a team. This is the chance that all of you dubbers have been waiting for; break out the clubs, sharpen up the putting eyes, and come to the aid of your school.

In passing — all the sounds of mat-pounding, grunting, and groaning that have been coming from the gym lately can only mean one thing: Coach Goodwin has begun his wrestling program. Good luck, men!

On Wednesday evening, March 23, the championship of the intramural basketball league was decided in a play-off game between Staub's Stumpers and Guriel's Gangsters. In a hotly contested battle, Ken Staub led his team to a decisive victory, winning 68 to 53. Staub was the game's high scorer with 23 points while Coach Goodwin contributed 21 to the losing cause. Butch Lichtenberger also played a fine game, ball-hawking on defense while chipping in 17 points for the winners. However, it was a team win, and both teams turned in fine efforts.

Coach Goodwin has announced the beginning of baseball on a varsity basis for the coming spring with practice scheduled to begin on April 4. During the winter, the school purchased 22 new uniforms,
