At long last, spring is here and the baseballs are flying again. Unfortunately, too many of those little white spheroids have been flying through the Behrend Campus baseball team's defense. Although they have been receiving fine pitching from George Guriel, Gary Scalise, and John Eberth, and have out-hit every team they have played thus far this season, their leaky defense has cost them all but two

In the first game of the double-header against Buffalo, which opened the season, Guriel won a close decision over the Bryant and Stratton nine, five to four. From then until their win against Jamestown, the Behrend aggregation held the short end of the stick in games with Altoona, the Penn State freshmen, Alliance, and Buffalo. Their record now stands at two wins and five losses.

In the Jamestown game, Gary Scalise gave up three unearned runs in the first inning, and then came on strong to hold the opposition scoreless while his team-mates, led by Bob Rauch and John Lloyd, rolled up eleven runs. Fine fielding by Jack Fern and Ike Sosnoski gave him the much-needed and long-sought defensive support.

In the Penn State freshmen game, George Guriel lost a one-run decision, fourteen to thirteen in ten innings while giving up only three Earned runs. At the plate, Behrend out-hit and out-scored the home team, collecting twelve earned runs, but their shoddy play afield cost them dearly.

Behrend closes its season with games against Alliance, here, on May 19, and an away game with Jamestown on May 21. We wish them the best of luck, and extend the thanks of the players to Coach Goodwin whose efforts and energy have made this an enjoyable, if not particularly successful, season.

Ken Staub - He's Our Man!

By CAROL RIPLEY

If anyone were to list Behrend's top athletes, Ken Staub's name rebounder. would be near the top, if not first. This blond, 6'1" freshman comes from Riverside High School in Buffalo, where he was voted the most athletic in his senior class. In his fourth year of high school basketball, he was chosen captain of the team; and as an outstanding football player, he was selected for the All-City Team. A star in pole vaulting led him to second place in the Buffalo city finals.

At Behrend Campus, Ken also earned an outstanding record. He was selected as top scorer in the Western Division of the Pennsylvania Junior College Athletic Association. Ken averaged 21.7 points him a notable figure on campus.

in each of Behrend's games and was considered Behrend's leading

Although he is noted especially for his basketball achievements, Ken has found time to engage in other sports including, bowling, soccer, and baseball. He also plans to try out for the basketball and track teams when he attends the main campus this fall.

Not only a top athlete at Behrend, Ken also has a good academic record. He is enrolled in business administration and would like to major in the accounting field.

As one can see, Ken has both brains and brawn, which makes

Ivy League

Is it ever Ivy! Why, Coke is the most correct beverage you can possibly order on campus. Just look around you. What are the college social leaders going for? Coca-Cola! So take a leaf out of their Ivy League book and do the same! Enjoy the good taste of Coke!
