As the Cub went to press, the basketballers from B. C. held a respectable 2-3 won-lost record in the Pennsylvania Junior College Athletic Association's league play. And with over half of its basketball schedule completed, there is still remaining a chance for the boys from B. C. to take all the marbles.

Entering our fourth game of the season at Jamestown, N. Y., the B. C. five were turned back by the tune of 25 points, losing the game by the score of 84-59. Dave Nielson was high scorer with 18 points.

Tom Fie flies for try.

Following suit, again defeat showed its outstretched hand and shook with the B. C. five. This time it took place in Erie Hall, and Midland Commerce, a team that has scored over one-hundred points in each of its first three games, scored a total of 83 points to a 71 count for Behrend. Dave Nielson was high man with 22 points.

As mentioned before, Behrend has captured two wins, and both of these victories have come at the expense of one team—DuBois. On December 16, Santa came early and gave us 51 lollipops and DuBois just 49. This second win kept us in contention for the crown, as well as providing the home town crowd with an exciting basketball game. High scorer was Dave Nielson with 16 markers.

On the following day, December 17, it took a last second shot by Sheridan of Altoona to defeat B. C. Although leading the whole game, Behrend lost on this last second shot by the score of 55-53.

Playing our eighth game at McKeesport, the boys from B. C. played one of their roughest games of the 1960-1961 basketball season. This eighth game included everything from the lead switching hands, time upon time, to players hitting the hardwood floor. And in the end, a familiar sight revealed itself as the scoreboard showed that Behrend had lost by four points, 53-49. High scorer for McKeesport was Stamm with 11 points, and Dave Nielson dropped in 19 points with Dick Trigilo following with 14.

Intramural basketball was introduced to Behrend Campus for the new year of 1961 by six teams known as the Behrend Trotters, Twidgets, Untouchables, Stompers, Philosophers and Doubtfuls. Rules governing these teams are as follows:

1. All games will start at 12:15.
2. A team may play with 4 men.
3. A team with less than 4 men, after a 10-minute waiting period, shall lose by forfeit.
4. Only men whose names appear on this roster are eligible to unless both captains agree to a "pick-up."
5. All games will be 40 minutes long (20 minute halves) with no stopping of the clock except: 1. during the last 2 minutes of play in each half; 2. when a referee signals a legal time-out. Thus the clock will be "moving" when you are taking a foul shot.
6. Captains of the winning teams shall turn in the score sheets to Coach Gallagher.
7. There will be a 5 minute break between halves.

8. Additional players may be added at the start of second semester.

This Intramural Basketball League opened on January 6, with the Behrend Trotters defeating the Untouchables by the score of 35 to 24. or the winners, Ron Shellito was high scorer with 12 points, and for the losers, Phil Alling (co-capt.) had 8 points. This Intramural League introduces to the sport-minded fans of Behrend a chance to play with over 48 of his fellow students.

HARRY'S SPORT PREDICTIONS

1. Floyd Patterson to K.O. Ingo Johannson in the ninth round of their return match for the World's Heavyweight Championship.

2. Within a matter of three years, the Washington Redskins of the National Football League will be carried to the League Championship on the throwing arm of this year's draft choice, quarterback Norman Snead of Wake Forest.

3. The top football team in the nation for 1961 will be the University of Iowa, and the only team to defeat Notre Dame for 1961 will be this very Iowa team.

State, Basketball And Dumars

By DON DETISCH

Penn State's cage-men opened ball, Dumars, taking command, their regular season of play demonstrated sensational ball-handling and dribbling which

The sting of defeat, however, caused the Purdue five to consistently foul him and his teammates. The Blue and White's rudely dumped highly rated Purdue by a score of 63-59.

The main reason for Dishinger's poor play, as well as Purdue's defeat, was a 5'10" backcourt wizard named Mark Dumars. Dumars, State's All-American candidate, employed a variety of shots in exhibiting his prowess as a marksman. Playing a razzle-dazzle type of basketball, Dumars proved his worth as an All-American and a real crowd-pleaser. In the last minutes of the game, when it was necessary for State to freeze the handling and dribbling which caused the Purdue five to consistently foul him and his teammates. At one point in the game, Purdue had as many as four men guarding the "Mark" and yet he threaded his way through the defense, continuing to score. The terms grandstand exhibitionist and Mark Dumars became synonymous, and throughout the game Dumars kept the contest on a humorous note by his blase and cocky style of play which, nonetheless, never outweighed his terrific skill. All who saw the game are confident that the "Mark" will succeed in his bid for an All-American berth.
