SPORTSCOPE

By DON DETISCH

Spring, and thoughts are turned to baseball. The young men of Behrend Campus are no exception to this "time-worn" expression; thus we find the campus invaded by strange warriors carrying bats and arrayed in colorful blue hats, white uniforms, and black spikes. At present, the Behrend roster numbers approximately twenty lovers of America's biggest sport. Under the directorship of Jim Gallagher, probably Behrend's most able coach in a decade, the team may pull a few surprises in a hotly-contested Western Junior College League. Coach Gallagher commented recently: "If we can develop straight up the middle, we'll be fairly well set." Recently, in their opener, the Behrend nine encountered arch-rival, Altoona, on the Cubs diamond, culminating in a victory for the downstaters. L. Dunst battled courageously, fanning 10, but to no avail. Dunst poses to be one of the better members on Gallagher's pitching staff, experienced playing junior legion ball for a number of years, and capable, his forte being a sliding curve. Williams and Hess of Altoona combined talents to strike out 17 men. The contest remained on an even level until the sixth inning when Williams of Altoona scored the first tally via the error route. The scoring concluded in the eighth inning with Altoona's centerfielder, Strittmeter, crossing home plate a second time for the winners.

At this point, hitting appears to be the weak spot for the men of Behrend. "Mac" McCallister, at present, looms as the top slugger, obtaining 2 out of 3 hits that Behrend mustered at the first game.

The team is green, yet possesses that certain quality known as "guts", and the season is still young. We are confident that Gallagher and Company will cause much chaos among the teams of the Western Junior College League. Remember, the team needs support; so back that team of yours — be glad you have one.

Members of the team are J. Brown, P. Ottoson, B. Curry, A. McCallister, L. Dunst, J. Perkins, G. Levenson, A. Coombes, J. McMahon, S. Brindle, B. Duresh, B. Sturdevant, H. Greer, J. Scott, D. Conrath, and D. Trigilio.

The remaining schedule is as follows:

- May 5—Penn State Frosh—Away
- May 6—Altoona—Away
- May 13—Jamestown—Away
- May 16—Bryant Stratton—Home
- May 20—Penn State Frosh—Home

The golf team met Alliance in their opener at Cambridge Springs. A return encounter was held last Saturday. Tentative matches are McKeesport and Ashtabula. Members include D. Liebau, B. Witkowski, B. Flick, B. Shervan, F. Hetzel, C. Riney, and A. Winschel.

TERM—from P. 1

Orientation Week has been moved back from Sept. 24 to Sept. 17.

An advantage of the plan would be that the fall term would end on Dec. 7, giving students an extra week of Christmas vacation. There will still be a one day Thanksgiving recess on Nov. 23.

The change was made by President Eric A. Walker upon the recommendation of a faculty and administration committee representing all segments of the University. The committee was set up by Walker to study the difficulties arising from the late beginning of the fall term.

At the outset, the main problem was how students could attend the first football game, since it was before registration.

As the committee studied the problems, more difficulties arose: namely, traffic and housing congestion on the weekend of Sept. 23.

VISIT—from P. 1

Road. The importance of this piece of land to the Campus is great, for it will now be possible to expand the entrance to the Campus and make it a less dangerous intersection. The spring which supply our water are also located on this land.

Students transferring from a Commonwealth Campus to University Park.

For incoming freshmen students readmitted, and students admitted with advanced standing, the deposit will be $50 at University Park.
