

Nittany Narrator

By Dave Craley, NITTANY CUB Sports Editor

BEHREND'S BASEBALL OPENER at Altoona Campus last Friday afternoon was a wasn't. And on Saturday it was snowing at University Park so the game scheduled with the State Frosh was also postponed. . . after everyone had gotten up at six in the morning confident of a Behrend victory. Both games will be made up during the weekend of May 4 and 5.

The actual baseball opener, then, comes tonight at spacious Jamestown Municipal Stadium against Jamestown Community College. The Stadium is the home of the Jamestown Tigers, usually a second division finisher in the New York-Pennsylvania Class D. League. Any home run hits tonight will very likely be inside-the-park jobs. With quick outfielders, the park is usually a pitcher's paradise. Also, the dugouts are two of the worst mudholes this side of the 1960 Erie Mayoralty race.

Pitching is somewhat of a problem for the Cubs this year. It's not that we don't have good pitchers, it's just that we hardly have any pitchers. The coach may alleviate the problem, however, by shifting every position each inning and giving each player a chance to show his stuff.

I think that I shall never see
A double-header victory
In which one tireless pitcher goes
The route with but one change of hose.
It can't be done this day and age
Unless you have a Satchel Page.

THE POSITIONS are quite uncertain but here is a tentative lineup for tonight's game under the lights:

Catching	Tom Larson
First	Alan McAllister
Second	Doug Prozan
Short Stop	Joe Haser
Third	Mel Ross
Left field	Jerry McMahan
Center field	Ron Greer
Right field	Howard Estock
Pitching	John Brown

WHO CAN RESIST predicting baseball standings at this time of year? Not me:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

- 1—Yankees. . . they have the league's best batboy.
- 2—Whitesox. . . go, go, go is back, back, back.
- 3—Tigers. . . Cash is counterfeit and the Mafia catches up with the Colavito.
- 4—Orioles. . . "It won't come true in '62."
- 5—Indians. . . new hat "wahoo" gives 'em luck.
- 6—Twins. . . pregnant with power.
- 7—Redsox. . . Boston's lousy in hockey, too.
- 8—Angels. . . Autry sings 'em out of the cellar.
- 9—Senators. . . JFK pitches on Tuesdays.
- 10—Athletics. . . cast-off Yankees cast off.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

- 1—Dodgers. . . pep pills from the milion dollar clubhouse.
- 2—Giants. . . wind blows Stu Miller off mound on last day of season.
- 3—Cardinals. . . the Man in one last glory year.
- 4—Pirates. . . Smokey Burgess' ulcer heals up.
- 5—Reds. . . Maj. Gen. Walker upsets 'em with his threats.
- 6—Braves. . . Burdette caught throwing spitter.
- 7—Cubs. . . eight heads not as good as six others.
- 8—Colts. . . quicker on draw than big city boys.
- 9—Phillies. . . thank God, at last!
- 10—Mets. . . Polo Grounds for polo.

Minds of great men all remind us
Baseball games are here to stay.
Fidel Castro, Rogers Hornsby,
Major Kouk and JFK
All support and love the game
The Great Bambino used to play.
Though Ike may scoot to Bradenton
On April ninth to practice putts,
The roar across the USA is:
Who says Jimmy Piersall's nuts!

The scene of this thoughtful, or should we say sleepy pose, is the chess match with New Kensington Campus. Steve Hagan and Ed Paauwe won the match, although at the time of this photo the outcome was uncertain.

COMMONWEALTH CAMPUS NEWS

ALLENTOWN—the prestige and influence of the Allentown Student Government Association is seemingly at a new low. From reports in the Allentown Collegian there is a great deal of apathy on the parts of the students toward the governing body; and the SGA, in committee form as a whole, is somewhat ineffective.

McKEESPORT — the McKeesport Debaters recently attended the Joseph O'Brien Debaters Congress at University Park and the state-wide conference at the University of Pittsburgh. Radio station WEDO in McKeesport has invited the Campus to prepare twelve programs, beginning in April, for its "Youth Speaks" program.

OGONTZ—just as it did during the initial week of the Winter Term, the Ogontz Campus reinstated Frosh Customs during the opening week of the Spring Term—but on a voluntary basis. The Ogontz Literary Journal, as compared to Behrend's Icarus, will be published in the middle of the present term. During the first week of the Spring Term, the SGA sponsored a Jazz Concert in the Ogontz Rec Hall. The Hall was transformed into what resembled a night club and dancing was permitted during the latter part of the program.

POTTSVILLE — the Library Club of the Pottsville Campus recently visited the Smithsonian Institute, Congress, and the Library of Congress in Washington.

WYOMISSING — student purchasing of yearbooks at Wyomissing is mandatory. The March 6 issue of the Wyomissing Associate Collegian has an excellent satire of a "typical" SGA meeting (PSU Extension Campus newspapers may be read simply by asking for them at the SGA office in Erie Hall).

YORK—in order to increase the quality of the York Campus newspaper without raising its budget, a section for classified ads has been set aside in the publication and a moderate fee charged for advertising.
