

Nittany Narrator

By Dave Craley, Nittany Cub Sports Editor

THERE WAS QUITE A SHOW on the Behrend Campus last Saturday, and the host Campus accounted for much of it. The Penn State Commonwealth Campuses held their first Inter-Campus Sports Day on the Behrend Estate and who can say it was not even more successful than expected? Last year the chess, table-tennis, and bowling stalwarts from one Commonwealth Campus would travel to another Campus for a few hours of sports fare just as a basketball team would take on another in a singular event. But a different set of arrangements this year provides that three or four Campuses will visit another for a day-long series of ping-ponging, pinbusting, and checkmating. Five or six of these events are scheduled throughout the year at different Campuses around the Keystone State, and Behrend, last Saturday, acted as Test Campus Number One for invaders from DuBois, Altoona, and New Kensington Campuses. Things turned out quite well from a Behrend point of view.

WILLI SCHICKHAUS, Behrend's undefeated State Table Tennis Champion, forgot all about his injured leg Saturday afternoon and put on another of his fabulous ping-pong demonstrations. Larry Sybrandt was Behrend's other table tennis player and together Schickhaus and Sybrandt were unbeatable in match play

Achtung!

New Kensington and DuBois provided little challenge for the SS-Squad, but Altoona, after running away with the bowling lime-light, decided to try for table tennis, too. Schickhaus won both of his singles sets in quick fashion, but Sybrandt ran into trouble. Going into the final set—the doubles—Behrend and Altoona were deadlocked at two sets apiece. S-S won the first game quickly, but Altoona's Frank and Davies battled back to take a tight 25-23 second game. The good sized crowd oohed and aaahed all through the final game and then applauded loudly as Willi and Larry drove home the match point in another hectic 25-23 contest.

Baker Division

THEY SURE CAN PLAY chess on the Behrend Campus . . . even the freshmen. Baker Division ran away with more chess honors Saturday and advanced one step closer toward winning the Dr. Bernreuter Chess Set for the second straight year. Sam Hazen, Nick Pallotto, and Dave Gardner dominated play in the Otto F. Behrend Science Building and only Altoona again was able to provide much challenge. The only game lost by the hosts was to the Altoona congregate but opening victories in that three-game match set up the overall win and an undefeated match play record for Behrend.

Gone With The Wind

A PIZZA PARTY was on tap for the visiting Campuses at eight o'clock Saturday evening, but the players were well on their respective ways home before the Dorm Girls came down to entertain (and partake). A long, hard day drove the players back to their adobes and there actually was no reason for staying: the victories were scantily distributed for the visitors, Penn State lost a heartbreaker to the fired-up Army Cadets, and the Dorm Girls said they didn't want to come to the party because they felt bad over the Lions' loss. But at eight o'clock there they were. And they helped eat the pizza, too—all juicy, cheesy, great big fifteen of them.

Schickhaus Gains Second Goal

Tremendous is perhaps the only adjective that can best describe the Nittany Cubs latest effort in soccer against the Erie County Technical Institute of Buffalo.

This was the second encounter of the Cubs' against the highly touted E.C.T.I. soccer men and perhaps the best soccer game ever played in Behrend's athletic history. The first match was a donneybrook in favor of E.C.T.I. by the score of 8-1, and a shut-out was only avoided by the talented toe of a rookie inside by the name of Terry Turi, who in the fourth period, booted the ball home. This second game, however, was completely the opposite.

From the opening kick off, the game was nip and tuck with Behrend showing more hustle and fight than their highly ranked opponents. An example of this can be seen by the first period statistics of saves by each of the goalies—Behrend 1, E.C.T.I. 14.

SHUTTER-BUGS TO ORGANIZE

Do you like to take pictures? Pictures of pretty girls and pictures that trick the eye? Would you like to improve your technique and swap ideas with other camera bugs?

Then the Photography Club should interest you.

According to the clubs advisor, Mr. Norman B. Patterson, the club was formed to promote an interest in photography, improve the quality of it's member's pictures and supply pictures for the NITTANY CUB and BEHREND YEARBOOK.

There have been no meetings of the club this year as Behrend has no darkroom. But equipment has been ordered and will be set up in room 103 of the Otto Behrend Science Building.

A Frosh

the auspices of Tom Garris and Bob Lipsey, many acts could be an inspiration for future productions. Dry humor preceded each act. Paula Harris recited a humorous poem on Customs. Dave Manning gave a rib-tickling monologue on "The Great White Hunter". Surelle Tosher filled the air with vibrant sounds of the "Stripper" from the French Quarter. At 3:42 p.m. Customs was officially proclaimed ended.

The rewards and memories of Freshmen Customs were available to all freshmen. Unfortunately, a few failed to reach out and grab them. A cynical view towards Customs shows a deficiency in school spirit and self-enjoyment.

Behrend's hopes were blackened somewhat by a broken leg sustained by Larry "Looper" Loftus early in the first period. But this did not dampen the Cub's hustle as they continued to keep their opponents at bay throughout the second period. At the halftime, one might see the jaw of a little Irishman in blue windbreaker and a delapidated baseball hat drop lower and lower in disbelief as his soccer men trotted off the field to enjoy their halftime break with the score still 0-0.

The third period was similar to both preceding periods with the two teams playing on even terms for the first fifteen minutes. Then with aproximatly five minutes remaining in the period, Willie Schickhaus deftly side stepped a huge mountain in a red E.C.T.I. uniform and banged a goal. Pandimonium broke loose as Guod Nazorp practiced his rescue carry of Willi down the field and "Knute" croaked to see Behrend take the lead.

Unfortunately the joy was short-lived as Tech came early in the last period to knot the score with a penalty kick and later move ahead on a freak goal as big T.I. couldn't quite stretch his toe to the top of the goal to avert another score. Behrend continued fighting to the end with Tech adding one more goal and stealing a victory from Behrend's grasp 3-1.

The fierceness of the game could only be seen at the end as Behrend's courageous combatants hobbled and helped one another from the field. How sweet it would have been. And by chance if a Fredonia "Bluedevel" is reading this article - Beware.

The Cubs lost another well played game last Tuesday afternoon when the Slippery Rock Junior Varsity whitewashed them, 3-0. Several fantastic near-misses featured the Behrend attack but only when the ball actually en-
