

SPORTS, Cont. from Page 6

After 16 games, four players have scored over 200 points:

Joe Williams -- 294
Ron Hornyak -- 225
Dan Casane -- 210
Barney Etzel -- 209

Williams also leads in rebounds and shooting percentage. Barney Etzel and Ron Hornyak lead in foul shooting.

This weekend, the Cubs travel to BuBois and Altoona. Our record is now 11 and 5, the best in the school's history. Coach Sweeting stated, "I'm very proud of the team." We can say the same.

THE ART OF GETTING ALONG

Sooner or later, a man if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul; that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back. He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses out. He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously. He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others. He learns that carrying a ship on his shoulder is the easiest way to get in a fight.

He learns that buck-passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays. He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him. He learns that even the janitor is human and that it doesn't do any harm to smile and say "good Morning," even if it is raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains that are as good or better, and that hard work and not cleverness is the secret of success. He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out. He learns not to worry when he loses an order, because experience has shown that if he always gives his best, his average will break pretty well.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through cooperative effort that we move on to better things. He learns that bosses are no monsters, trying to get the last ounce of work out of him for the least amount of pay, but that they are usually fine men who have succeeded through hard work and who want to do the right thing. He learns that folks are not any harder to get along with in one place than another, and that the "getting along" depends about ninety-eight per cent on his own behavior.

* * * * *

"Some men who boast that they are self-made must look piti@ul in the eyes of God."