

should be made in the Constitution to make it more effective. It is thought that the Constitution should be much more specific than it is. The Constitution, at present, does not actually grant the OSGA legislative powers. These powers are implied by the Constitution. It was one purpose of the Conference to legalize the legislative powers of the OSGA.

As a result of the Conference the McKeesport Campus in conjunction with others will prepare several amendments to the present OSGA Constitution. These amendments will be acted upon at the next conference to be held in the Spring.

Representing Behrend Campus at the Conference were Jeff Disend and Tom O'Connor.

MODEL U. N.

Also over the weekend three Behrend students participated in a Model United Nations held at University Park from Thursday to Sunday. Bob Dean, Ginnie Klavon, and Janis Puzar represented the country of Japan in model committee meetings concerned with the same issues the real U.N. deals with. The questions covered concerned the proliferation of nuclear weapons, admittance of China to the U.N. (The vote on this issue was very close--one vote decided the outcome) and finance & peacekeeping operations.

In the General Assembly held Thursday evening, the delegates heard the U.N. delegate from Nigeria, Mr. Adebo, speak on the role of the U.N. in the world today--it's successes and its failures. When the General Assembly again reconvened on Sunday votes were cast on the issues.

China was kept out of the U.N. and it was decided that nuclear weapons should not be spread to non-nuclear powers. The Behrend delegation had to leave before the remaining issue could be voted upon.

ODE TO GORDEN BAKER

I've grown accustomed to the way
You lecture everyday.
Your coughs, your croaks, your lousy
Jokes,
Are second nature to me now.
Like flunking out and sleeping in.
I was serene in my assurance that I'd
Pass (before we met).
I know that I will never feel that way
Again and yet
I've grown accustomed to your curls,
Accustomed to your face,
Accustomed to your course.
