

Literary Magazine, continued from p.1
contributions.

This publication will be distributed free to the Behrend student body, and to a 200-name mailing list which includes Mrs. Behrend and all the commonwealth campuses.

Mr. Milosh is faculty advisor to the literary magazine.

ON CAMPUS

"The Great Dictator," a great Charlie Chaplin movie, will make the Erie Hall scene Saturday, December 3, at 8:00 p.m.

Nearly everyone has seen lovable old Charlie, the Charlie Brown of the early 20th century, and he is now lionized as one of theater's greats.

Don't miss this classic old film.

Circle K. is sponsoring a jammy on Friday, December 2, from 10:00 to 12:30 p.m. Just for Kix, let's go to this one, instead of stranding it like the Nittany Cub Jammy.

...

Yearbooks are on sale all this week for $3.00 each. Gae Baker, Editor, assures us that this is the best edition ever to his the Behrend Campus. The yearbook is a worthwhile investment for ALL Behrend students. Please support it.

BOB MICHAELS SPEAKS OUT

"For some reason the student body and its government have not been able to correspond effectively." So goes one of the greatest collegiate problems of one Ivy League university.

However, let's not think for a minute he is alone. Practically every school of higher education has found that it is extremely difficult for students to express criticisms, problems, or ideas they may have.

Here at Behrend, I felt that any problems we may have would be solved by doing two things. First of all, students must be approached and asked for their opinion. Little did I know that more than half of the student body comes to school only for class and is never given the opportunity to voice opinions. Well, this wasn't working so well. Maybe if I made sure they all knew they were welcome to attend S.G.A. meetings they would come.

No. S.G.A. meetings were Common Hour, Tuesday, and that means they would have to leave later than everyone else and, well, it just isn't worth all that.

How about Common Hour Thursday morning? Surely they would have no excuse than. Sounds good to everyone.

Well, present last Thursday morning were Paul, Barney, Rene, Fitz, Janete, Roger, Mike, and three faculty
