

EDITORIAL: S.G.A.

As demonstrated by the letter to the editor on page three, there is some antagonism, confusion, and even apathy toward S.G.A. on campus. Mr. Hilton, while he has contributed nothing to help the situation, can at least be praised for taking the time to write about it. His letter appears on page three.

We feel S.G.A. is representative of the student body. Bob Michaels represents two-year students, Jeff Disend is from business, Jan Puzar from education, Carol De Arment from Liberal Arts, Denny Hoover represents his special sports interest, and Gary Baran bills himself as the representative of average students.

Freshmen are represented by Luke Holzen, Karen Naughten, Greg Abbey, Fay Roller, Jamie Nevel, Bill Benko, Ronnie Bachelor.

And if S.G.A. were not representative in members, it wouldn't be their fault. There was an open election last fall from which the bulk of the members come. Then at the beginning of this term it was opened up again to new applications from any interested student.

Some vacancies occurred on S.G.A. because of grades. You have to maintain a 2.0. Other vacancies occurred because S.G.A. is really a lot of hard work, and because full time students often don't have the time to spare.

The S.G.A. has worked hard this year, and they're very conscientious. Those who accuse them of apathy are usually students who are too lazy to read the minutes posted every week by S.G.A.'s energetic secretary, Jan Puzar.

But if you have failed to read the minutes, you will now have the details of S.G.A. spoon-fed to you.

Please read the S.G.A. Tally on page five.
