

LIBRARY RE-CLASSIFICATION

It is with mixed emotions that this article is written. While we are welcoming back Miss Margaret Schumacher as librarian, we must also bid a farewell to two wonderful women who have been serving as library assistants in her absence.

We would like to say a sincere "thank you" to Mrs. Maxine Mosso and Mrs. Hildegard Marshall who have been working in the library since last September under the able supervision of Mrs. Edna Babcock. They have certainly done a fine and friendly job during their stay here.

Unfortunately, we have no medals to give out, but if we had, the greatest would go to Mrs. Babcock, technically only a library assistant, who has been in charge of the library during Miss Schumacher's absence. She has certainly done a most commendable job. One great tribute to her is the library of Congress section in the library. She has supervised the re-classification of all these books.

Still, at the same time, we are glad to have Miss Schumacher back at her old post. Known also as "Knuckles" (for her piano-playing ability), she has been a great asset to the campus in the past, working with the Behrend Players and the Behrend chapter of the Red Cross.

We are sure she would like to meet all the new students on campus, and also re-new her old acquaintances. Don't wait until your books are over-due; stop in and say hello soon.

They won this one 96-74. Hornyak led all scorers with 29 points; Williams canned 22, McGregor 17; Etzel 12; and Taylor 8.
