

CARNIVAL SCENE

The Behrend Campus Circle K has been cited as the most active in Zone 1, the Western Pennsylvania Region, and it is certainly no wonder why. The fantastic Winter Carnival Week End was further testimony to their great social service to this campus. It must be rated the best to date.

Friday night saw the local Penn Staters skiing, tobogganing, then enjoying hot chocolate, marshmallows and hot dogs in front of a crackling fire.

Snow sculptures of Snoopy and the Sopwith Camel dog house, the Nittany Lion, a championship trophy, a playboy bunny, and the omnipresent beer bottle were scattered around the campus scene.

Saturday saw snow ball-rolling contest, Ski-doo's, a basketball win over Altoona Campus, and the crowning of Winter Carnival Queen Kathie Jenkins at the dance that climaxed the day.

A Sunday night skating party sponsored by Psi Sigma Upsilon Sorority wound up the week end festivities.

The snow sculptures are melted. The events are now memories which these pictures by Jim Madura will help you remember.

THE LAST BRIDGE

by Jim Michali

The foreign film series will be showing THE LAST BRIDGE this Saturday in Erie Hall. By filming on location in Yugoslavia and using folk tunes, it has incorporated local color, yet this film has been highly praised for the powerful performance of Maria Schell.

Maria Stars as a young German doctor captured by Yugoslav partisans and compelled to care for the wounded. She follows them, at first reluctantly, but, finally, voluntarily.

The short subject, THE GOLDEN FISH, is in color. It is an enchanting color fantasy of a little goldfish, a little boy, and a big hungry alley cat.

Those who have not yet attended a film in the series would do well to attend this one. Tickets for students may still be obtained in the Student Affairs Office or may be purchased at the door.

For those who cannot attend on Saturday night, Dean Lane is planning a possible showing on Thursday, during Common Hour, in room 101 of the Science Building.
