Support the War--

Why is the United States in Vietnam? There is no concrete, clear-cut, simple answer to this question.

Opposition to the War is increasing in the United States. This is evident by the student viewpoints and by the grow-numbers of people in leadership positions speaking out against the War. This opposition is nothing novel in the history of the United States. There is documented evidence proving that there was opposition to every United States' war from the War of Independence to the present Vietnam War.

The fact that there are American lives being lost is reason enough for every American to give their support to the War. These lives can not be lost in vain. reason enuf close examination of

The United States can not back-out of Vietnam. We have pledged our support to the people of South East Asia, and to keep face with the world we must stay there and fight.

The "citizens" who don't give their support to the War, the draftcard burners, the protest leaders are considered traitors and their followers are non-thinking, unpatriotic, gut-less misfits of society.

card must be filled requesting the Records Office to keep his local board informed on his status. Any questions pertaining to draft status can be answered by Mrs. Helen Adam, Secretary to the Director of the Behrend Campus.
